Youth of 14 In Drowning Accident

Curtis Perry, 14, of 45 Curve street, West Newton was drowned while swimming at Forest Grove, Waltham on July 4. The boy, who according to his companions, was not a good swimmer had gone 15 feet beyond the first rocks and was in eight feet of water when he sank. A girl, who heard his cries for help notified life guard Barbara Adlet who dove in after the body and located it on the first try. Another lifeguard, Shirley Porter, notified the police and fire departments and summoned a doctor.

Members of the Waltham police and fire departments arrived, also Metropolitan police, with ambulances, and although the boy was under water only about one minute they were unable to revive him after more than two hours of artificial respiration and use of inhalators. A physician who was summoned expressed the belief that the boy may have suffered an attack of illness before he sank. Captain Fleming of the Waltham Fire Department accorded high praise to the work of the lifeguards at Forest Grove and to the efforts of Francis M. Reilly, a Red Cross life saving instructor who came from his home nearby.

He was planning to enter Harvard Law School but went on active duty in the Marines following his graduation and was commissioned at Quantico, Va. He served at sea in Cuba and was sent to the Southwest Pacific early in 1942. He returned in January 1943 and was assigned to Camp Pendleton, California where he remained until January of this year. He was promoted to major last November. He expects to come home on a visit within a few weeks.

He has two brothers in the service, Lt. Fred J. Ryan in the Army Air Forces at Maxwell Field, Ala., and S. 1st class David Ryan of the U. S. Coast Guard who is at sea. They have one sister, Miss Bertha M. Ryan.

Newton Notes Safe And Sane Fourth

The safest and perhaps the sanest July 4 since the observance of Independence Day began was observed in Newton Tuesday judging from the activity (or lack of activity) of the police and fire departments.

The only fire alarm sounded was a false one the day before the Fourth, at 1:48 p. m., from Box 22611 Walnut street, near Clyde street, Newtonville.

Only one arrest occurred on the Fourth, the first since June 30. The lone prisoner was charged with drunkenness and his arrest occurred early yesterday morning.

The police ambulance was called out twice on the holiday. The first call was received at 6:34 p. m. to take a child who had been injured in a fall to the Newton Hospital.

James T. Gorman, 48, of 12 Penny street, Cambridge, was taken to the hospital Tuesday night at 7:50 after he was stricken ill at the Riverside Railroad Station. Dr. William Powers attended the victim and ordered his removal to the hospital. He was taken there by Patrolmen Kerr and Calnan.

Wide Interest In War Show 'Direct Hit' To Be Shown Saturday

Entertainers taking part in the musical revue, "Direct Hit," to be presented in the Newton High School Saturday evening, July 8th.

BUY A BOND—large or small

—at any bank in Newton and receive a ticket which will entitle you to see the all-services musical show, "Direct Hit," on Saturday evening, July 8, at the Newton High School Auditorium. The War Finance Committee, Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, chairman of the Women's Division has made the arrangements for the musical comedy.

Newton women who belong to clubs in the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs are staffing the bond booths at the different banks. Members of Junior Women's Clubs will act as ushers for this gala event which appropriately closes the Fifth War Bond drive. Newton Federation officers, Miss Estelle G. Marsh, vice president, of Newtonville; Mrs. Albert S. Schaller, recording secretary, of Waban; Mrs. Ferdinand J. Blake, treasurer, of Newton Centre; and Mrs. Louis F. Billings, of Auburndale, will be hostesses.

Seats are not reserved and the program will begin at 8 o'clock when Newton War Bond buyers, members of the War Finance Committee, the Citizens Committee for Service to Newton Servicemen, representatives from Newton banks and the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, as well as Mayor Paul M. Goddard will join in paying tribute to two Newton women, both of whom have six sons in the service. They are Mrs. Annie Gordon and Mrs. Patrick McGrath, who will represent all Mothers of sons in service from Newton.

Mr. James B. Melcher, community chairman, reports that the sale of over $8,350,000 of the War Bonds had been credited to the City of Newton through Saturday, July 1. This is over 97% of Newton's quota. The sale of "E" Bonds is still very far behind—to date only $363,000 or 27% of the quota. Remember, another "E" Bond carries with it a tie to "Direct Hit" and helps Newton reach its quota.

"Direct Hit" opened its tour for an enthusiastic audience at Boston Garden, where it is claimed as one of the best shows of the war, to be favorably with such success as "This is the end of a 'Winged Victory' man in the cast, and also a of the show, is Pvt. Donald of the Army, who was rehearsed for the lead in the Chicago production.

The Soldier in Normandy Can't Get To the Polls Next Tuesday—But You Can

While many of the political experts vary in their forecasts as to the outcome of some of the primary fights to be decided next Tuesday, they are unanimous in their prediction that the turnout of voters will be the smallest for any primary since women received the right to ballot.

They point out that thousands upon thousands of servicemen are overseas at military camps and naval training stations in other parts of this country and that thousands of civilians are vacationing at seashore or mountain resorts.

Even those at home are too engrossed in following the progress of the war, they believe, to give more than passing attention to political campaigning.

It should be remembered, however, that millions of fine young Americans are fighting in remote parts of the world—in places they never knew existed—to protect and preserve our right to government ourselves and our privilege of electing the men who will run our government.

The men who will be nominated next Tuesday will be the candidates for important offices next November. Our boys overseas can't go to the polls next Tuesday. BUT THEY HAVE A RIGHT TO EXPECT THAT THOSE AT HOME WILL CARRY ON AND WILL MEET THEIR RESPONSIBILITIES AS PATRIOTIC AMERICANS. REMEMBER WHEN YOU CAST YOUR BALLOT NEXT TUESDAY YOU'RE VOTING NOT ONLY FOR YOURSELF BUT FOR SOME SOLDIER IN NORMANDY OR NEW GUINEA, SOME MARINE ON SAIPAN OR SOME SAILOR AT SEA. THEY CAN'T GET HOME TO VOTE. THEY'RE DEPENDING ON US. DON'T LET THEM DOWN. MAKE IT A POINT TO CAST YOUR BALLOT NEXT TUESDAY.

Rawson

He resigned from the Board in 1943, after becoming a member of the House.

He was elected to the House of Representatives two years ago, representing the 4th Middlesex District. Speaker King appointed him to two important committees—Election Laws and Military Affairs and Public Safety. As clerk of the Election Laws Committee he had a large part in the first general revision of the Election Laws in 1913. He was also appointed of the Military Affairs and Public Safety Committee on the part of the elected clerk of the House. As a member of that committee he had a large part in the successful fight to extend and the Commonwealth Air-Port-Boston.

He was one of a sub-committee of three appointed to study the Coconut Grove disaster in order to recommend legislation to prevent a recurrence. After many weeks of work he and Senator Clapitt of Springfield drafted two bills which were enacted and are now law. These laws provide for the safety of the public in places of assembly. Enforcement is left in the hands of the local authorities, but the Commonwealth through its Department of Public Safety, is given the duty of checking local enforcement with "spot" inspections, with power to close premises which do not comply with law. The Commonwealth did not have this state-wide authority previously. If these laws are enforced there will not be another Coconut Grove disaster.

Rep. Rawson is a candidate for re-nomination in the Republican Primary, July 11th.

Politics With Color

Republican Convention

It seems to me that there are three aspects of any national political convention to be considered after the smoke of battle has cleared away. First and foremost is the popularity and the vote-getting ability of the ticket which has been nominated. Secondly, there is the reaction of party members and the general public to the platform which has been adopted. Third, is the mental attitude of the convention delegates as they return to their homes and go back to their daily routine.

As to the ticket nominated, it seems likely that Republicans, by and large, will reach the conclusion, sooner or later, that the Dewey-Bricker ticket has tremendous potential strength. Let's grant, for the sake of argument, that many people would have preferred a public test of strength of the various Presidential candidates, including those who constrained to hold themselves aloof. The cold, hard facts are that the Gallup Poll showed Dewey far in the lead for some little time before the convention assembled. There is considerable significance to that fact. It indicated a widespread knowledge of Dewey's record and ability. It constituted a strong hint to the delegates all over the country that there was heavy "grass-roots" sentiment in favor of the New York governor.

Other things being equal, delegates prefer to vote in accordance with a popular mandate. Consequently, the bandwagon got away to an early start, under the guidance of the three shrewd Dewey managers from New York: Messrs. Sprague, Jacole and Brownell. By the time the convention was ready to ballot, Dewey had the nomination in the bag PROVIDED no Wendell Willkie appeared on the scene to spill the beans. My guess is that that was precisely the reason why Mr. Willkie was deliberately brushed aside prior to the opening of the convention. The insiders recognized the possibility that Willkie MIGHT stampede the convention just as he did in 1940. Dewey has tremendous assets. He is young, courageous, unusually capable and endowed with more than ordinary ability to attract strong men to his standard. If elected next fall, we shall see how a real cabinet functions. The best of the Republican party will be drafted and every member of the cabinet will be expected to perform his duties efficiently. If he fails, he will be dismissed and his place will be taken by a man who CAN do the job. Dewey will not tolerate the continuance in office of any man whose age, health or temperament demands his departure. What a welcome relief that will be.

Can Dewey be elected? Remember this fact. Dewey is just about equal to the President as a radio speaker. Furthermore, it is quite possible that the people, as a whole, are getting a little tired of a magnetic personality and an appealing voice. Maybe we are ready right now to welcome unusual efficiency, tremendous organizing ability and the determination to put our national house in order. Maybe it will be a relief to see businessmen given a chance to succeed and make some honest money. Maybe we are sick and tired of having one standard for labor unions and quite another standard for businessmen. Maybe we are willing to put an end to governmental confusion, squabbling and constantly changing rules and regulations promulgated by a vast army of bureaucrats who were not elected by the people whose lives they have for so long been regulating. We shall see. Furthermore, remember that Gov. Bricker of Ohio is very powerful in the middle West, where the G.O.P. will need heavy support. That is the section where the isolationist element has been extremely vocal.

As to the platform, this much can be said. A cynic has stated that candidates are supposed to run for office ON a platform but that after they have won their nomination they run AWAY from this same platform. We all know that platforms are built to satisfy a hundred different points of view. It is a long time since we have seen platforms which really took a definite stand on important issues. Candidates for the Presidency invariably mould the party platform to their own taste. We can doubtless trust Dewey to interpret the G.O.P. document in a reasonably satisfactory manner.

Now that the delegates are home again, it becomes evident that the great majority are satisfied with the results of the Chicago proceedings. Those who favored Willkie have come to realize that he was hopelessly out of the running. Friends of Gov. Saltonstall knew from the start that his only hope lay in a deadlocked convention. As time goes on, Dewey will grow in public esteem, despite the technique used in securing his nomination.

Contest for Lieutenant Governor

If the primary came today rather than on Tuesday, July 11, the chances are that Robert F. Bradford would carry Newton by a fair margin and lead Speaker Rudolph King throughout the state. Jarvis Hunt, President of the Senate, appears to be in third place, the Mayor or of Beverly in fourth place and McMaisters of Belmont last. However, the latter is conducting a big radio campaign and in a light vote he may upset predictions. Incidentally, this is a rather strong indication that the voters may feel safe in the knowledge that any of the likely winners will serve their state well.

State Legislature

In the Fifth Middlesex district, Rep. Margaret Spear is running for re-nomination and Alderman Joseph J. Incalza is running for re-nomination. John Temperley is contesting for Rep. Francis' seat. The latter is in the AMG, together with Rep. Patrick. The polls say that Inches should win, but the man on the street gives Temperley a good chance.

There is another contest in the G. O. P. primary which has aroused a certain amount of interest. Five men, including one Democrat, are running for the two nominations for the House of Representatives in the Fourth Middlesex district, comprising Newton, Newtonville, West Newton and Nonantum. The current Representatives are Rep. George E. Rawson of Newton and Rep. Loomis Patrick of West Newton, now in the Allied Military Government. Rep. Rawson, who has made a first-class record during his first term, is running for re-nomination. He will, presumably, win one of the two nominations. The other four contestants are the Democrat, Arthur S. Scrimgeour, who is seeking both party nominations, Harold A. Murray of Newton, John S. Whittemore of Newtonville and the writer, Philip W. Carter of West Newton. For obvious reasons it is difficult to view this contest in an impersonal, objective manner. The voters may be counted on to render a fair decision at the polls on Tuesday, July 11.

Strictly Personal
On Feb. 17, I announced my candidacy as a military substitute for Rep. Loomis Patrick in this column. That is the ONLY reference that has ever been made to this matter here. Now, on the eve of the state primary, may I simply say that I shall be deeply grateful for the support of those readers of this column who feel that my record of service entitles me to their consideration.

P.W.C.

Donaldson Seeks Nominaton For County Commissioner

Seeking election as Middlesex County Commissioner, Robert D. Donaldson of Lincoln holds the advantage of being familiar with the position, being a present acting county commissioner in the place of Captain Archie Giroux who is overseas and is not seeking re-nomination. The candidacy of Mr. Donaldson has the approval and backing of Captain Giroux and his associates.

Commissioner Donaldson now operates a large dairy farm in Lincoln, and formerly for 30 years was a builder and contractor. Already having proven his qualifications through serving as County Commissioner in place of Captain Giroux, Mr. Donaldson's long experience in the contracting business should make him a valuable asset when post-war projects come before the Board of County Commissioners during the next four years.

Commissioner Donaldson's previous public service includes 23 years as selectman of the town of Lincoln, as well as membership on the Board of Public Welfare and the Board of Public Health. Mr. Donaldson has served many years as Associate County Commissioner and is a director of the Concord Cooperative Bank.

Estabrook Seeking County Commission Vacancy Term

Backed by nine years of experience as a member of the Board of Selectmen of Arlington, Harold M. Estabrook has become a candidate to fill a vacancy for the two year term as County Commissioner in the Republican primaries, July 11th.

His service in Arlington during the period when municipalities were beset with the problems of the depression years and his experience in such matters as having executive supervision of construction projects involving sewers, storm drains, streets and buildings will be of inestimable value to the county.

His civic interests include membership on the Board of Directors of Symmes Arlington Hospital, Director of the Arlington Cooperative Bank, former chairman of the Finance Committee of Arlington. In business he is the Massachusetts representative of one of the oldest fire insurance companies in the country and is presently serving as chairman of the executive committee of the New England Insurance Exchange and is past president of the Bay State Club.

His election as County Commissioner will guarantee the continuance of sound business practices in Middlesex County.

The beautiful new Episcopal church at Wood's Hill, of which Mr. W. P. Wentworth, Newton is the architect, was dedicated on Tuesday by Bishop Paddock. It is the thank-offering of Joseph Story Fay, who has lived 38 years at Wood's Hill, and is built of local granite, 90 feet long, and cost $60,000.

In the police court today; 12 cases were disposed of—drunks, 8; setting bonfires, 2; assault and battery, 1; violation liquor law, 1.

A subscription fund has been opened for the rebuilding of St. Bernard's Church. Fr. O'Toole has signed for $500; T. B. Fitz, $200 and many others have pledged lesser sums ranging from $100 down. The work of rebuilding will be commenced very soon and the new church will differ somewhat from the former building in its architecture. The auditorium will be enlarged and a number of improvements made in the new edifice.

On Sunday morning the 70th anniversary of the Newton Centre Baptist Sunday school was celebrated by the meeting together of many of the superintendents of former days with the classes of today. The Sunday school was started and carried on for awhile by Mrs. Clarice Hyde, mother of Hon. James F. C. Hyde. She might well have been called the first superintendent.

Provide For Pets While On Vacation

If you plan to move or to go on a vacation, please give forethought to whatever arrangement you intend to make for the care of any pet you may have, dog, cat, bird, or other animal.

Animals, cats in particular, have an uncanny way of sensing in advance any disruption of their ordinary routine. They often will leave home or hide somewhere so they cannot be found when the family is ready to close the house, with the result that they are left behind to become strays and a nuisance in the neighborhood. Contrary to the belief held by many persons, domestic animals are not equipped to take care of themselves; they are dependent upon man to whom they look for protection.

If your pet is to be boarded while you are away, be sure arrangements are made well in advance and that he is settled comfortably before he has a chance to sense a change. If he is to be taken with you, keep him in or under control while out-of-doors when it is nearing time for your departure so that he will not be "among the missing" when you come to leave. If he must be disposed of, take or send him to the nearest animal welfare organization.

We are sure that most cases of desertion of animals are unintentional, due principally to delay in making the necessary arrangements. Won't you please make plans far enough in advance this year to assure proper care of your pet?

You, like all of us here, will enjoy investing your time at Raytheon. Whether you intend to work for Victory only, or plan your whole business future, you'll find the work clean, light and interesting.

Sports in a Nutshell

In the last issue of What's Cookin' I mentioned we might be able to say the Red Sox were in first place in this issue, but they did not make it. They took Chicago three straight here at Fenway, making 10 consecutive victories over Chicago.

Bowman, Highson, and Terry were the winning pitchers. The first two games were close 4-3 and 5-4. Cronin drove in the winning run in the first game and hit a homer in the second game to start a four run rally. Barret relieved Highson and helped save the game. The Browns gave us quite a beating 9-1 to start their series. The Sox pitchers gave 9 bases on balls and 9 hits with Potter holding the Sox to 5 hits.

The Sox put on quite a show for the Sunday crowd taking both games from St. Louis. Tex Hughson shut them out 1-0 in the first game holding them to 6 hits. The Sox hit the real thriller with the Browns leading 3-1 in the ninth. Fox fouled out. Bob Johnson doubled. Doerr grounded out. Lou Finney doubled scoring Johnson. Wagner singled scoring Fenwick with the tying run. In the eleventh Fox hit one to center and by fast sprinting and a beautiful slide made second; Johnson put Pete on third with a dandy sacrifice bunt. Doerr hit down to third and Fox was run down but kept them chasing him until Doerr reached second, here Lou Finney again played the hero, driving a single to center and Bobby raced home with the winning run and sent 35,000 or more fans home happy and contented.

The Detroit team split with the Sox Sunday, winning the first 4-3 and losing to the Sox 7-4. Bobby Doerr was the star all afternoon making 4 hits and driving in six runs. His homer with two mates on base was a corker. Hansmann pitched a first class game, holding Detroit to six hits but the Sox just kicked this one away. Bowman pitched the second allowing 10 hits but kept them scattered. Pete Fox and Bob Johnson were next to Doerr in this game.

The Braves landed in last place in the National League, losing both to Chicago 7-1 and 6-2. The Cards increased their lead to 10½ games by beating New York 6-2 and 9-1. They have won 47 and lost 19. Pittsburgh is in second place with 35 won and 28 lost. Cincinnati 38 won, 31 lost. New York 34 won and 35 lost.

Andrews, Javery and Ryan were selected to play in the all star game July 11 at Pittsburgh.

Hughson, Doerr and Johnson will represent the Sox in the all star game.

Billy Southworth expects the National League to pin it on the American league this year. He claims he has the pitching to hold the American league sluggers in check and will have a team this year which should give the National league this game. Joe McCarthy just wait and see what happens. I will give you the details in the next issue of What's Cookin'.

The Kiwanis club, one of the sponsors of What's Cookin' gave the state champions of Newton a victory banquet, Thursday night at the Newton Y. M. C. A.

Dr. Paul, Past President of Kiwanis gave fifteen golf balls to the team in appreciation of the wonderful victory achieved by them.

Pres. Walter Hood introduced Mayor Paul M. Goddard, Supt. of Schools Dr. Homer Anderson and Raymond A. Green, Principal of the High School. Each congratulated the members of the school team for winning the state championship for Newton.

The players presented their coach, Jeff Jones with a gift in appreciation of his work with the team and the good fellowship he inspired in them. The squad comprised Captain Roberts, Art Weinstock, Bob Seaward; catchers Joe McManus, Wes. Hays, Ralph Goodwin and Phil Patterson; pitchers, Captain elct Johnny Recco 1st; Charlie Bryson, 2nd; Henry Geary, 3rd; Roger Bryant, shortstop; Bob Adams, center field; Bill Ryan, right field; Ralph Scallia, left field.

The boys were interested in Neil Quinn of the Red Sox and John Mahoney of the Braves, both of whom spoke of the highlights of the games played by Newton High and how the players could receive a tryout with both clubs.

David Buxbaum, president of the Lions' club, Norman I. Patterson, Commander of Newton Post American Legion, and Roy S. Edwards of Rotary were guests of Kiwanis.

Official Coast Guard films were shown which were very interesting.

Jeff Jones, thanked the Kiwanis club through President, Walter Hood for the interest Kiwanis have in the youth of this city and how grateful all members of the team and the coaches were for the recognition received by them for winning the state championship.

As we landed army officials gave us a warm welcome. Representatives of the S.F.P.E. APO (Capt. Reagan of Natick, Exec. Off.) came aboard with mail for many.

It seems that General Hospitals overseas send lists of returning personnel to Frisco by air so that their mail can be held here.

You should have been in the big bus as we left the port! Only those who have been located on the deserts and islands can appreciate the exclamations as we rolled over the broad, smooth pavement and craned our necks at the colorful cars and huge billboards. We saw many women working as taxi drivers and street-car conductors, also many dressed in dirty coveralls suggestive of factory jobs.

There is plenty of food and rationing isn't too much of a problem. Folks certainly give service-men and their families every consideration. In speaking at various churches and other organizations I have found everyone tremendously interested in the war and especially in you as individuals. You are always remembered in the prayers for your safety and well-being. Our hearts are there with you. May God bless and keep you.

NEWTON PRIEST GAINS NATIONAL RECOGNITION

A Newton priest, who has worked among the negroes in the South, is adding to his labors by starting a convent on the campus of Tuskegee Institute, the "Athens of Negro culture," in Alabama.

Rev. Leo Farragher, S.S.J., pastor of St. Joseph's Chapel, who is a lifelong resident of Newton, hopes to complete the new convent, the only one in an area of 50 miles, by this fall.

Fr. Farragher was born in Newton and educated in the parochial schools of the city. Upon graduation from Our Lady's High School, after refusing a scholarship to Boston College, Fr. Farragher entered the Josephite Order at Epiphany College, Newburgh, N. Y. Studies for the priesthood were completed at Catholic University, and he was ordained in June, 1937. The next year, the pastor of Saint Joseph's Chapel received his S.T.L. from Catholic University.

Since that time Fr. Farragher has worked in the South, primarily at Montgomery and Tuskegee, Ala. In 1941, through the aid of people throughout the country, he built a chapel to help in the evangelization of Negro souls.

Fr. Farragher is the chaplain for the Institute, for the Veterans' Hospital at Tuskegee, and civilian chaplain for the colored aviators at Tuskegee Airfield.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Farragher, reside at 17 Emerson street, Newton.

Recently returned from the South Pacific Battle Fronts

CAPT. FRANKLIN

My dear Comrades:

I'm very grateful for the opportunity of sending you my hearty greetings through "What's Cookin'?" It followed me all over the South Pacific, always bringing a full load of interesting news.

Phil thinks you'd like to know my re-actions to the old U. S. A. after being overseas 27 months! Well, the Homeland is even nicer than I thought it could be! As we approached the great Golden Gate Bridge at Frisco the ship fairly pulsed with the expectancy of us all. That pessimistic slogan, "Gold on Gate in '48" was finally erased from our minds . . . it was only 44!

A proven and experienced public official, as Assistant U. S. Attorney Boston City Councillor State Senator and Representative

Curtis Endorsed By Haigis For State Treasurer

Former State Senator Laurence Curtis of Boston, who is a candidate for State Treasurer in the Republican primaries, has received the endorsement of former State Treasurer John W. Haigis of Greenfield. Mr. Curtis' only primary opponent is Mr. Fred J. Burrell of Medford who resigned from the office of State Treasurer in 1920 when Governor Calvin Coolidge appointed a committee to investigate his conduct in office.

Mr. Haigis said: "You have every qualification for the important office of Treasurer and Receiver-General, and I know that the Commonwealth's financial interests will be handled in a highly efficient manner under your able direction. You have my best wishes for success."

Mr. Curtis is no newcomer in the political field. He made his start some 15 years ago, and has served successfully in the Boston City Council, State House of Representatives and State Senate. He has served on nearly all the committees having to do with financial matters, chairman of the Appropriations Committee of the City Council, and on the legislative committees of Taxation, Banking, and Ways and Means. At present he is a member appointed by Governor Saltonstall of the Massachusetts Commission on State Co-operation which devotes much attention to public financial questions.

Mr. Curtis is a Harvard Law School graduate, a former assistant U. S. Attorney, and a secretary to U. S. Supreme Court Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes. He is a World War I Naval Aviation veteran; an active member of the American Legion, as well as the Disabled American Veterans, and of many organizations working for the welfare and advancement of the people and the state.

Supporting documents are appended hereto. Documents attached to News Release "Curtis Endorsed by Haigis for State Treasurer."

I. Copy of Governor Coolidge's letter of September 2, 1920 to the members of the committee of the legislature appointed to investigate the conduct of Fred J. Burrell, Treasurer.

"You are hereby appointed to serve on a committee to investigate the conduct of Fred J. Burrell, Treasurer and Receiver-General, in relation to the deposit of money in the Commonwealth in his hands in the recent banks and his reasons therefor, and report such facts as you may discover in connection therewith to me forthwith."

(This letter was made public and printed in a Boston Herald article of September 3, 1920, by Thomas Carens, who also listed the members of the committee appointed by the Governor as follows: Senator Frank G. Allen of New Bedford, Senator Walter E. McLaughlin of Fall River, Representatives Benjamin Loring Yarnall of Weston, Frank Lyman of Easthampton, and Wesley E. Monk of Watertown.)

II. Copy of Mr. Burrell's resignation of September 3, 1920 (as recently received from the office of State Secretary Frederic W. Cook.)

"To His Excellency Calvin Coolidge, Governor Sir:
I hereby resign as Treasurer and Receiver-General of the Commonwealth.

Very truly yours,

3 Seek Re-election As County Commissioners

MIDDLESEX COURTHOUSE, CAMBRIDGE — This week witnesses the closing hours of a spirited primary campaign especially in Middlesex County where sixteen Republicans are contesting for the two four-year places on the Commission and one unexpired term of office. The present three commissioners, Chairman Nathaniel I. Bowditch of Framingham, Robert D. Donaldson of Lincoln, and Melvin G. Rogers of Tewksbury are candidates to succeed themselves.

Chairman Bowditch is the best known of all the candidates having been successfully re-elected since he first took office seventeen years ago. His knowledge of County government caused the Boston Herald to print an editorial last Sunday saying, "Commissioner Bowditch is one of the best known, most highly respected and most useful citizens of the county. He has had a large part in the skillful administration which has made Middlesex one of our best units of government. He deserves re-nomination."

Commissioners Rogers and Donaldson have also played a large part in the outstanding record of Middlesex County in its conduct of county business. Mr. Rogers is a well-known lawyer and has served as associate county commissioner to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Charles C. Warren. He has served as counsel for several Middlesex County towns and is one of the largest farmers in the county, he is especially interested in Middlesex County Extension Service and 4-H Clubs. Commissioner Rogers is seeking the two-year term.

Commissioner Donaldson since his appointment to the board, caused by entering in military service of Commissioner Archie Giroux, has proved an able and efficient member and has given invaluable assistance to the county to his long experience as a contractor and builder. He has served as Solicitor of Lincoln and operates a large dairy farm,

"Failure to X on July 11th is a blow against America!"

ROBERT F. BRADFORD

War and Peace demand men of PROVED ABILITY in the public service — LEADERS you know can do the job!

ROBERT F. BRADFORD
... who reminds us that

"Every person on the home front who fails to vote, strikes a blow at one of the freedoms for which Americans are fighting on a hundred battlefronts around the world."

... IS A LEADER OF PROVED ABILITY.

PROVED is his ability as a lawyer... both in successful private practice and in the chief law office of the largest county in the Commonwealth, a county of a million inhabitants.

PROVED is his ability as a courageous and conscientious public servant... with his unmatched record as District Attorney of the Northern District, in which office he increased convictions from a previous low of 26% to a new high of 83%—and was re-elected by the people with the greatest plurality ever won by any candidate for any office in the history of Middlesex County.

PROVED is his ability as an efficient public administrator... when, despite the high activity of his office, he cut his budget year by year, reduced operating expenses to the lowest point in a quarter of a century and returned $166,000 in unexpended appropriations to the treasury of Middlesex County.

PROVED is his ability as a versatile executive... by his service in the management of two Massachusetts banks and three business concerns; as chairman of the executive committee of the Harvard Board of Overseers; as a trustee of Simmons College; as chairman of the trustees of Massachusetts Hospital School for Crippled Children; as a member of the executive committee of Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary; as a manager of Norfolk House Center; as vice-president of Boston Community Recreation Service; as president, the Greater Boston Community Council of Social Agencies.

PROVED is his ability in statecraft... with his record as executive secretary to the Governor of Massachusetts through four years of the stress and strife of depression and unemployment when, through his hands, passed emergency administrative and legislative details affecting every corner of the Commonwealth; as an elected delegate to the National Republican Convention of 1940 and again in 1944; as a lifelong worker in the rank and file of the Republican Party; as an active advisor to Governor Saltonstall in all of his state-wide campaigns.

This IS the candidate of PROVED ABILITY — Vote for him on July 11th!

The need is great... the man is here!

ROBERT F. BRADFORD

FOR LT. GOVERNOR

Vote at the State Primary July 11th!

You, like all of us here, will enjoy investing your time at Raytheon. Whether you intend to work for Victory only, or plan your whole business future, you'll find the work clean, light and interesting.

FEW DELINQUENT TAXES

The number of parcels of real estate advertised for non-payment of taxes hit a new low this year as the list numbered 248, compared with 429 parcels advertised last year, according to City Treasurer and Collector Clarence C. Colby.

The list of 248 parcels is expected to shrink as payment of taxes by delinquents is keeping the Treasury Department busy. When the city acquires the tax titles of the property on which taxes are overdue, the former owner has two years in which to redeem the title by paying the taxes and other charges.

The biggest problem the city has to contend with in this respect concerns vacant lots, the titles of which are seldom redeemed once they are taken by the city. The city has had much of this type of property on its hands for many years and has been able to dispose of it very slowly. Frequently offers are received to purchase such lots, but usually the offers are found inadequate and the sales fall through unless the prospective purchasers raise the ante.

NEWTON HIGH'S STATE CHAMPS TO BE FETED BY ELKS

The Newton Lodge of Elks will tender a second tribute to Newton High School's first state championship baseball team, according to plans made at a special meeting of the lodge at Elks' Hall, Newton.

Members of the championship team, managers, coaches and fathers will be guests of the lodge at a program on Thursday, July 27. Guest speakers will include professional baseball players and other prominent sportsmen.

Thomas F. Ryan is chairman of the arrangements committee, which includes John F. Donahue, Peter Ryan, Frank Maguire, John Walker, Fred Burns, D. Walter Keurns and Nicholas Vedeucio. Exalted Ruler John J. Keefe conducted the meeting at which John Duffy was reinstated to membership.

RESTAURANTS HERE RATED OK BY HEALTH DEPT.

The extent to which the drive started by the Newton Health Department to bring about cleanliness of utensils in eating and drinking establishments has been successful was indicated by the latest publication of ratings of more than 100 establishments. Only one was given a rating of "unsatisfactory" and 18 were rated as "Fair." The rest, about 90 in number, received ratings of "good." The ratings were based on the bacteriological examination of specimens from drinking and eating utensils in the establishments, which include school cafeterias, restaurants, cafes, drug stores, spas, and all other places in the city where food or liquor is served.

STOLEN BIKE RACKET BROKEN UP

A bicycle theft and resale racket in which two Brighton boys were partners was broken up today when one of the boys was arraigned in the juvenile session of Newton District Court on a charge of larceny.

Inspector Joseph B. Lyons, who solved the case while investigating the theft of bicycles at Norumbega Park, is seeking the other boy. The case of the boy arraigned today was continued until July 14 by Judge Donald E. Mayberry.

The boys are alleged to have stolen six bicycles, disposed of one by throwing it into the river and one of the boys kept the sixth. All of the stolen bicycles, including the one that was thrown in the river, were recovered.

LIBRARY TO EXPAND AFTER THE WAR

Plans have been completed for the acquisition of the former telephone exchange building on Elmwood street, Newton Corner, by the city for immediate use as a war plant and postwar use as a stack room building for Newton Free Library, which it adjoins.

To make it possible for the use of the building by the Doc-lam Machine Company for the duration of the war, the Board of Aldermen has passed an amendment to the zoning ordinance allowing the use of a building located in a business zone for the assembling and testing of precision instruments, during the present hostilities, without the right to manufacture.

After the war, when the building is vacated by the machine company, it is planned to use it as an adjunct to the main library on Centre street, which it adjoins. To make it convenient for the storage of books in the building, it will be connected by an enclosed runway with the library.

RECCO 1944 CAPTAIN

The announcement that first baseman Johnny Recco was elected captain for next year and that Capt. Noel Roberts, star catcher, and Joe "Moose" McManus, ace hurler, have signed contracts to play professional ball with the Boston Braves, featured the victory banquet tendered Newton High School's first state championship nine by the Newton Kiwanis Club at the Newton Y.M.C.A. on June 22nd.

Fifteen lettermen received gold baseballs from Dr. Fred H. Paul, team physician, and member of the Kiwanis club, while the team members presented Coach Lucius "Jef" Jones with a gift. Coach Jones, who is also a scout for the Braves, announced that his two stars were awarded contracts by the National League team. President Walter A. Hood was toastmaster and President Vincent Bollinger made the awards to the team members. Capt. Roberts made the award to Coach Jones.

The squad comprised Capt. Roberts, McManus, Recco, Wes Hays, pitcher; Charles Bryson, second baseman; Roger Bryant, shortstop; William Henry, third baseman; Bob Adamson, center fielder; Bill Ryan, right fielder; Arthur Weinstein, catcher; Ralph Goodwin, pitcher; Phil Patterson, pitcher; Bill Gorham, third baseman; Ralph Scallan, left fielder, and Bob Seaward, catcher.

Mayor Paul M. Goddard headed the list of speakers, which included Principal Raymond A. Green, Dr. Homer Anderson, superintendent of schools; Neil Mahoney, Red Sox Coach, John Quinn, Braves secretary; Commander Norman I. Paterson of the Newton Post, American Legion; and J. W. Mooney and Ernest Dalton, sports reporters. Official Coast Guard films were shown after the dinner.

STOLEN CAR CRASHES, OCCUPANTS FLEE

A car that was stolen on Floral street, Newton Highlands, Thursday night was wrecked when it crashed into a tree on Walnut street, near the Newton Cemetery, late Friday night.

When police arrived to investigate the crash, the occupants had escaped.

The auto, owned by David E. McLeod, 650 Boylston street, Newton Centre, was parked near 82 Floral street Thursday night when it was stolen.

STEALS BABY WALKER

C. B. Stott of 93 Athelstane road, Newton Centre, reported to the police that a fourwheel vehicle used to teach his infant child to walk was stolen from his yard. The vehicle, known as a "Taylor Tot", was described as blue and ivory in color, having four wheels and a handle on the back. The theft of a bundle of newspapers from the rear of 285 Washington street, Newton, yesterday and the day before was reported to the police by Herbert Hysell, operator of a newspaper truck.

THREE NEWTON NURSES RECEIVE COMMISSIONS

Three Newton nurses were included in the 76 from New England, who were graduated June 24th from the First Service Command basic training center for Army nurses in exercises in the Red Cross recreation building at the New Station Hospital, Fort Devens.

SERVICE FLAG DEDICATED IN NONANTUM

The only formal observance of Independence Day in Newton on July 4 was a public patriotic demonstration consisting of the dedication of a flag pole, American flag and a 513-star service flag, by the Italian World War Veterans Association at Columbus park, Bridge and Watertown streets, Nonantum.

The guest speakers at the exercises were Judge Vincent Brogna of the Superior Court, a resident of Newton; Rev. James E. Fahey of the Church of Our Lady and ex-Mayor Edwin O. Childs.

The program included a short street parade. Judge Brogna was master of ceremonies and was introduced by Carmen A. Vitti, chairman of the event. Fr. Fahey offered benediction.

The flagpole, donated by the Raytheon Manufacturing Company of Newton to Newton Post No. 6, Italian War Veterans, was formally presented by Peter Arakalian, representing the company. Loreto Bianchi, chairman of the Veterans celebration committee, accepted the pole and in turn presented it with the national and service flags of his Post to the city of Newton for care and safekeeping.

HOW MUCH "POWDERED EGG" WOULD IT MAKE?

Five-year-old Catherine Rizza, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Domenico Rizza of 306 Cherry street, West Newton, could hardly believe her eyes when she found the largest egg she had ever seen in her mother's chicken coop.

Doing her share in the war effort, Catherine gathers eggs for her mother every day. Accustomed to the usual size eggs, she thought she saw a misshapen baseball when her eyes fell on an egg, nine inches by eight inches, which proved to weigh six and one quarter ounces.

HOME AFTER 25 MISSIONS

With 1st Lt. Robert D. Lane, former Newton High School student, at the controls, the Flying Fortress "Tijunga Terror" lived up to its name, raining devastation on enemy targets in Hitler's Europe in carrying out 25 missions.

Lane, who is 22 and the son of Mrs. John W. Box, brought back with him the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal with four Oak Leaf Clusters, and two citations from Gen. James Doolittle.

His missions took him over Berlin, Hanover and other German cities, as well as Poland.

Lt. Lane attended Newton High School two years and was graduated from Wilbraham Academy in 1939. He attended Lehigh University and left college in March, 1942, to enlist in the Army Air Forces. He was graduated as a pilot at Turner Field, Albany, N. Y., May 28, 1943, and went overseas Jan. 25 of this year, arriving in England.

Blood-Plasma!

Swift to the scene where the battles rage,
A miracle of a war-torn age;
Transferred to the broken vein,
Life-blood flows to a heart again;
A boy is saved, a mother's heart
Blesses each one who had a part.

From the veins of those who till the soil;
From the hearts of those who sweat and toil;
From the high school boy yet in his teens;
From the proud, the great, the man of means;
A nation's blood in a flowing stream,
Winds its way, where the bullets scream.

When the war is over, the battle won,
When hatreds cease, with bleeding done;
The story of blood-plasma can be told,
Written in blazing letters of gold.

A soldier strong in health and limb,
Because of plasma given to him,
Will bless each one who heard the call,
And pray for the Red Cross, mother of all.

Favors Harris
For County Commissioner

Mr. Editor:
Post-War conditions call for a man of recognized ability to serve in the capacity of County Commissioner of Middlesex, containing as it does a greater number of the cities and towns in the Commonwealth. Its citizens are vitally concerned because of these post-war problems, not only as affecting the County but the State as well.

Foremost among those who have been selected as capable of filling the position of County Commissioner, one who has served his home city in municipal government and his State as a member of the Governor's Council is James G. Harris of Medford.

That the large citizenry which includes Newton, Waltham, Cambridge, Somerville, Malden, Medford, Everett, Melrose and Woburn together with the towns of Belmont, Arlington, Weymouth, Stoneham, Reading and Wakefield should receive recognition through the selection of a County Commissioner from this area cannot be refuted and the supporters of the late Sen. Charles C. Warren, not only in his community but in other towns and cities, are confidently fitted for the office.

A product of Brown University he is a trustee of several educational institutions; Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Colby Junior College; former chairman of the Medford Republican City committee for five years; five years a member of the Medford Board of Aldermen and a presiding officer in his last year retiring from the board to be a candidate for Governor's Council, where he served under Governors McCall and Coolidge. He is a former president of the Men's Republican club of Medford and was elected secretary of the last Middlesex County Convention, held at Cambridge.

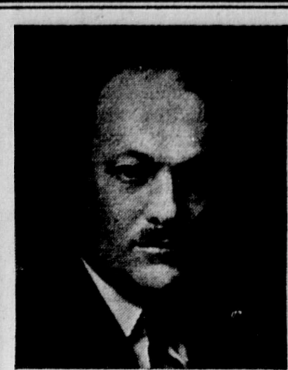

He was for three years a member of the State Tax Appeal Board and served nine years as a member of the Medford school committee and the past year was practically drafted to serve again for four years.

Mr. Harris is a member of the Civilian Defense committee appointed by Gov. Saltonstall. Samuel C. L. Haskell, 55 Trainerscroft road, Medford.

*When the matter of the construction of the new turnpike along Worcester Road was being discussed at the State House, very naturally the Commissioners of Middlesex County were interested as under the old law the County would have to pay back to the State one-fourth of the sum that the State might expend in the construction of that turnpike through the limits of this County. It was your own Representative, J. Walton Tuttle, who was the one to see the Joker in the Legislation and inform us in time so that this County was protected. His information gave us a chance to get Legislation through protecting this County, thereby saving the County thousands of dollars. This statement is made as a token of our appreciation.

Sgt. Murphy, a graduate of Our Lady's High School, entered the service about two years ago and was sent overseas last year.

His letter reads in part as follows: "I've visited Rome and St. Peter's. While there I had the good fortune of having an audience with the Pope. It has been my ambition since I landed in Italy to have an audience with him and now that ambition has been realized. I have in my possession a medal bearing the likeness of His Holiness which was given to all of us who had that audience. He gave a little talk and then bestowed his blessing on us, and he also sends his blessing to our people at home."

"St. Peter's itself is beautiful. I did not visit the Vatican grounds as only St. Peter's was open to us. I'm certainly thrilled on being able to see the Pope and St. Peter's, as it was something I'll long remember. When I return I'll be able to tell you more about it than I can put into a letter."

"The city itself is a very lovely place and it sure was something to see a city that had not been ruined, to have some gorgeous buildings and statues there, but of course that is typical of the Italians as they go big for that kind of stuff."

NO TODAY-zers AT RAYTHEON.

The fictional character, Scarlett O'Hara summed up the attitude of many women today in her famous words, "I'll think about it tomorrow." And we all know that it is the easiest thing in the world to be solely a today-zer and let tomorrow go hang. It takes a pretty practical and clear-minded woman to refrain from just waiting for the future to develop. However, one of the war plants that has done much to overcome this lethargy is Raytheon in Newton. The Rays here are putting in their hours with a concern whose unwritten motto is "This is only the beginning." An armistice will not mean a red light on production, rather it will mean the signal for speedy peacetime production in Electronics—that miracle of science that will make post-war living a marvel to behold and a comfort to enjoy. At Raytheon the women have marked right up to Mr. Future, looked him square in the eye, and informed him that they made plans for him. So whether you call our Rays soldiers, smart business women, or idealists—we call them patriots with common sense. Amidst in this common sense that is aiding our Rays to turn out thousands of radio tubes which not only help to give the servicemen a future over there, but is also preparing a bright one for them over here.

COMMANDER—Lt. Stuart Chant of the Gordon Highlanders, repatriated prisoner of war, will speak to the Newton Raytheon winners of the Attendance Contest banner at the presentation ceremony to be held on Monday, July 10 in the cafeteria.

Lt. Chant, who is a veteran of the famous St. Nazaire raid of March 28, 1942, where he was taken prisoner, was the only commander of his group to be repatriated from Germany.

His mission on the raid to France was to supervise the destruction of the pumping station at St. Nazaire, one of Germany's main submarine bases. His party sailed from the French port on H. M. S. Campbelltown, one of the 50 American destroyers transferred to Britain. The Germans caught sight of the ship and opened fire on it. Despite the heavy barrage, the ship steamed on until it smashed into the lock gate precisely on scheduled time.

Under heavy fire, Lt. Chant made his way to the pumping station, fired the explosive charges which destroyed the station. With the scuttling of their ship, Chant and his men were cut off from retreat and they were taken prisoner by the Germans.

POPS WAS TOPS. Fred G.
Link, 543 Concord Pike, Arlington, (Dept. 131) appeared as guest soloist at Raytheon Night at the Pops held in Symphony Hall, Boston on June 24.

With Louis Speyer conducting the Boston Symphony Orchestra,
Mr. Link sang "Two Grenadiers," and for his encore he sang "It's Morning."

Celebrating at the Pops her fifteenth anniversary as a Raytheonian was Mrs. Hazel M. Petersen, 10 Linden Park Drive, Waltham.
Mrs. Petersen who is Assistant Director of Personnel at the Newton plant, joined the Raytheon Company on June 24, 1929.

SHOW. Starting a new series of radio programs, the Newton Raytheon will interview each week day over the air some plant employee who will discuss her job and her contribution to the war effort.

Appearing on Raytheon's broadcast during the week of July 10, will be Barbara Doyle, Worcester street, Wellesley Hills, Lillian Boltrus, Pleasant street, Watertown, and Gladys Mitchell of Waltham.

Barbara Doyle, who is representative of a new high school worker, has been at Raytheon only a few weeks. This plant is a family affair for her as both her mother and dad are employed by Raytheon.
This new worker is a glazer of radio tubes.

Gladys Mitchell has been with Raytheon for 8 years. She first started to work as a mount operator and has since progressed to the position of a shadow grapher.
When asked if she liked her work, Miss Mitchell said, "I love it. Anything connected with radio is wonderful."

Lillian Boltrus, a young mother, works as receptionist of the Newton Raytheon Employment Office.
During the day her mother does her part for the war effort by taking care of the receptionist's 2-year-old son.

The schedule of the radio program is as follows:

WEEL—9:30-9:45 a. m. on Tuesday, Thurs. (First week only); Mon., Tues., Thurs. (Second week and every week thereafter) WORL

nally a little old lady from the opposing party called out, "You've done enough for your country. Go home and rest. We'll vote for the other fellow."

Only 20% of Registered Local Voters Cast Ballots

Capt. J. L. O'Hara Flight Surgeon Of Liberator Squadron

15TH AAF IN ITALY — The health of his Liberator bomb squadron is the prime concern of Captain John L. O'Hara, 29, Flight Surgeon, along with his five man staff of medics.

Son of Mrs. Mabel O'Hara, 136 Hunnewell street, Newton, Mass., the Captain's lone soubrette is "Doc." A graduate of Boston College and Tufts Medical School, O'Hara practiced at Chelsea (Mass.) Veterans' Hospital before answering the call to arms in 1942. Today he answers more calls, and solves more psychological and physiological riddles than Dr. Killdare. By all odds the most popular individual in camp, O'Hara is that way due to his lively Irish interest in the subjective side of humans in an Army steeped in the objective approach.

When he arrived in Italy, "Doc" had his bag of tools, a few pills, swabs, nose spray and a large tent. Ingenuity has brought him the most efficient, up-to-date dispensary on this isolated base. He needed hardware, boilers, tubing — everything. He made a quick pilgrimage to a salvage dump, a boneyard of enemy and allied planes. A demon with the hacksaw, "Doc" filled a truck with miscellaneous hardware and extraneous material. Today his dispensary has everything.

Captain O'Hara's home is Newton, Mass., but his bride, Mary Burns O'Hara doesn't live there any more. She's pharmacist's mate, 3rd class, in the WAVES. One of her WAVES bonnets is a frequent observer over Germany on bomb missions. Gunners ask for the privilege to wear it for good luck. So far it remains intact.

Something New And Different

An original column will appear next week in the Newton Graphic entitled "Dining with Jane and Bill."

Your nutritionists have taken pen in hand and are going to jot down something new, interesting, and helpful for you.

Watch for table talks from "Jane and Bill" next week and every week.

War Services Committee Active

The Knitting and Sewing division of the War Services, Newton Community Club, met on July 6, at the home of Mrs. John Boppart, 117 Prospect street, West Newton, when in spite of the heat 15 members spent a busy afternoon knitting afghans, sewing and mending for the different soldiers' hospitals. Much interest is being displayed in this worthy cause.

A large bundle of clothing for home and foreign relief and costume jewelry used in trading by our boys overseas was donated. Under the direction of Mrs. Herbert G. Bedell of 4 Converse avenue, Newton, chairman, it was soon sorted and will be put to many uses along with the mending and sewing of the various articles of clothing. Many needy persons will profit by this sewing which is under the capable hands of Mrs. Edward R. Aldrich of 36 Taft avenue, West Newton.

ONE MAN HOSPITAL — WITH STAFF

The boys who maintain the most efficient dispensary in a Liberator unit of the 15th AAF in Italy, are prepared to mend, tape and otherwise administer to their stricken buddies. Left to right: Pfc. Lawrence Patten, Center, Ala.; Pfc. Anthony Ringhofer, Jefferson City, Mo.; Sgt. "Buck" Kuder, Dayton, Ohio; Pfc. John Rizzo, New York City; Pfc. Bill Henson, Palmyra, N. J.; and Capt. John L. District Attorney Robert F. Bradford received 4180 votes in the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor. Rudolph F. King receiving 927, Jarvis Hunt, 608, Daniel McLean 88 and William H. Masters, 88.

In the contest for State Treasurer in Newton Laurence Curtis polled 3,025 Republican votes and Burrell received 2486 votes. For State Auditor Frank A. Goodwin (Continued on Page 6)

Do You Plan College for Your Son or Daughter?
If you plan to send your son or daughter to college, it is important for him or her to have the correct preparation not only to enter, but to maintain a high scholastic position while in college.
Students must learn good study habits and a just appreciation of their own possibilities before they enter college.
Formal education ends with the secondary school. A young man or woman has definitely determined his or her future before he or she enters college.
It is the precision of instruction in the schools, not the colleges, that determines how well a man or woman will be educated.
Very few students, who aim at college, fail to enter because their ability is too weak. Many cannot enter, because their vocational trend is too narrow or their personality traits are unbalanced. These two factors make poor students out of those who should be good students.
Too few have a goal or know how to reach a goal. Testing determines a goal; supervision assures its attainment.

"GAS FOR A HERO"

A Newton soldier recently returned from 17 months fighting on the African and Italian front, was granted a 30-day leave. He applied for a gasoline allotment and received the generous amount of five gallons to last him 30 days. Did he burn up?

Take a look at the race tracks and notice the parked cars. Watch the trucks go by transporting bangtails from track to track. Prisoners of war who were responsible for the death of many American soldiers are sent in trucks to watch ball games, to visit historical places and are pampered by various groups. Take a walk in the vicinity of the many night clubs and hot spots around town. Watch the cars park and the well-gowned gals and their boy friends step out for a night's entertainment.

American heroes may walk or take a street car but the social life of America must go on! OPA had better do something quick about this situation. Ma and Pa don't like to see their boy pushed around after coming home from the fighting front. THIS IS AN ELECTION YEAR. When things like this go on anything can happen. New Deal take notice!

VACATIONS AND PETS

In a release, regarding provisions for pets while away on vacations, Robert F. Sellar, president of the Animal Rescue League of Boston, issued the following statement:

If you plan to move or to go on a vacation, please give forethought to whatever arrangement you intend to make for the care of any pet you may have, dog, cat, bird, or other animal.

Animals, cats in particular, have an uncanny way of sensing in advance any disruption of their ordinary routine. They often will leave home or hide somewhere so they cannot be found when the family is ready to close the house, with the result that they are left behind to become strays and a nuisance in the neighborhood. Contrary to the belief held by many persons, domestic animals are not equipped to take care of themselves; they are dependent upon man to whom they look for protection.

If your pet is to be boarded while you are away, be sure arrangements are made well in advance and that he is settled comfortably before he has a chance to sense a change. If he is to be taken with you, keep him in or under control while out-of-doors when it is nearing time for your departure so that he will not be "among the missing" when you come to leave. If he must be disposed of, take or send him to the nearest animal welfare organization.

We are sure that most cases of desertion of animals are unintentional, due principally to delay in making the necessary arrangement. Won't you please make plans far enough in advance this year to assure proper care of your pet?

Letter of Thanks

To the Editor:
May I take this opportunity to thank all my friends and well-wishers for their splendid support on July 11. In any political contest, somebody has to lose. Good sportsmanship demands that the loser keeps smiling and continues to work hard for the party to which he belongs. I shall try to do just that.

Politics With Color

The Primary

Exact statistics do not appear to be ready as this column is being written the morning after election. However, the vote was abnormally light and did not run much more than 20%. That means simply this: about 28,000 voters in Newton did not consider it of vital importance to go to the polls last Tuesday. To be sure, we must include in that figure of 28,000 the great majority of the 7,500 men and women who are now in the armed services. Also we must include those who are temporarily working in war plants outside of Newton. Even so, it is obvious that thousands upon thousands of substantial citizens of this city made no serious effort to exercise the franchise. Consequently, when the November election comes around, it will not be fair for those who ignored the primary to make any adverse criticism of the men and women named in the primaries on either the Republican or the Democratic ticket.

Before leaving this general topic, it is, perhaps, only fair to point out that in another equally intelligent and patriotic community, Brookline, the turn-out was a measly 18%. Later on, when the smoke of battle has completely cleared away and the harassed city and town clerks have had a chance to unravel all their vital statistics, I shall have something to say about the state-wide total vote. At the moment, it appears that our puny Newton columnists, Bill Cunningham, has not had his customary success in shaping and guiding public opinion. He does a grand job, at that. I hate to think what the turn-out might have been if Bill had NOT devoted his entire column last Sunday to an all-out effort to get out the vote.

Lieutenant Governor Contest
As anticipated, the young and popular District Attorney of Middlesex County, Robert F. Bradford, moved down all four opponents with the greatest of ease as he captured the nomination for Lieutenant Governor in the G.O.P. primary. He defeated his nearest opponent, Speaker Rudolph F. King of Mills, by a margin of more than four to one (4,189 to 927). Senate President Jarvis Hunt of Attleboro could gather in only 608 votes, Mayor McLean of Beverly had 88 and McMahsters of Belmont marched in the rear with 80 votes.

Speaker King's poor showing in Newton was somewhat surprising in view of the fact that some of the master-minds of the G.O.P. went "all-out" for King. Obviously, Bradford was too strong to be defeated by routine political methods. He will add great strength to the Republican ticket next November and should defeat his Democratic opponent handily.

State Senator
Senator Benjamin J. Bowen of West Newton slaughtered Thomas H. Morahan by a vote of 2,564 to 313, despite the advertisement which Morahan ran, referring to himself as "Newton's Republican State Committeeman." Curiously enough, the ad was technically correct. Morahan WAS elected State Committeeman last April in the so-called Presidential Primaries, when about three percent of the Newton vote turned out. The G.O.P. leaders wanted A. John Serino of Cambridge to win, but Morahan put one over on them. In view of the fact that Morahan was Senator Bowen's Democratic opponent in 1942, you can scarcely blame the G.O.P. for seeing red today. Per-

Newton Woman Bible School Teacher

Miss Barbara Lounsbury of 219 Mill street, Newtonville, is among eleven young college women who this week began teaching in the new Vacation Bible Schools of Greater Boston. These young women, who are interested in religious education, have just completed an intensive course at the City Missionary Society, of Boston, which is directing the church schools in co-operation with Andover Newton Theological School.

The teaching is in two three-week periods, from July 10 to 28, and from August 7 to 24, and the students will receive credit for field work at Andover Newton. The students are living at Chase House on the seminary campus and are under the supervision of Miss Lillian B. Moeschler of Newton.

Attends Handicrafts Conference

Mrs. Alice Guiney of 19 Samoset road, Waban, supervisor of Practical Arts Classes for women in Newton schools, attended a very interesting and instructive four days' conference for teachers of handicrafts. The conference was held last week at the David Hale Fanning Trade school for girls, Worcester, Mass., and was conducted by the Division of Vocational Education of the Massachusetts Department of Education. The Massachusetts Informal State Advisory Committee on Handicrafts co-operated in the program for this conference.

State Legislature
Rep. Margaret Spear of Newton Centre led the field in the Fifth Middlesex district, polling 2,577 votes to Alderman Henderson Inches' 2,111 and former Alderman John Temperley's 1,078. This was in accordance with most predictions. Our congratulations to the two winners, and, of course, to Senator Bowen, previously referred to.

Rep. George E. Rawson and John S. Whittemore of Newtonville were the victors in the Fourth Middlesex district. Whittemore led your columnist by 296 votes and Messrs. Arthur S. Scipione and Harold A. Murray brought up the rear. Again, sincere congratulations to the two winners. They will, without question, continue to give Newton its usual high-grade representation.

Other Results
It seems advisable to wait until next week before commenting to any extent on the state-wide contests. The Curtis-Burrell battle for the G.O.P. nomination for Treasurer has not yet been definitely settled. Newton gave Curtis a six hundred vote lead; nothing to brag about in view of all the circumstances. More about that later on. Clarence Barnes beat Roy Morahan more than four to one for Attorney General, with Fairbanks trailing. Barnes' victory in the state is already assured. The same may be said of Frank Goodwin, Registrar of Motor Vehicles, who had a lead of seven hundred votes over former Auditor Russell A. Wood of Cambridge.

For County Commissioner, Bowditch of Framingham beat his nearest opponent two to one in Newton. That was for the long term. Rogers led a large field for the short term. That, too, was no surprise.

NEWTON In The Past

55 Years Ago
Newton Graphic, July 12, 1889

L. D. Whittemore, Jr., of Newton, made a trip of 225 miles on his safety, last week, visiting Mt. Wachusett, Fitchburg, Nashua, Lowell, Salem, Willows, and Gloucester.

While removing the old house on the corner of Nonantum and Washington streets, Newton, this week, the workmen found a copper cent dated 1795, in a good state of preservation.

The plans for the laying out of the Slaby estate, Newton, include the extension of Hunnewell avenue to St. James street, a new street from Washington, near where the house now stands, to Hunnewell avenue, and one or two other short streets.

Mr. Herbert Miller has been awarded the contract for enlarging the Methodist Church vestry, Auburn. The work will be completed in about two months and the vestry will then have a seating capacity accommodating 225 persons.

Newton Upper Falls item
The poles for the electric lights are being placed in position along the streets and we shall soon be illuminated.

T. G. Woodman has applied for a patent on an invention of his own called the "Base Ball Puzzle." It is on the same general principle as the "Pigs in Clover," representing a diamond-shaped field with fielders, batsman, umpire, etc. The place of each player is represented by a half circle into which the balls are to be made to roll. A stock company of 21 members is already formed, and W. S. Reed of Lomister, the toy manufacturer, will manufacture the puzzles.

John Leavitt, of Pearl street, Newton, who has been running events at Newark, N. J., won first prize in the mile, three mile and five mile class.

Newton subscribers of the New England Telephone Company will be interested to learn that a new lightning arrester has been invented which the company has adopted. It is thought to be an improvement over those now in use. Newburyport has been selected as the place for trial of the new arrester, and Manager Welch will soon attach the mto the more important lines.

The old fountain that for years has stood in the centre of the square in West Newton has been restored to a less conspicuous spot and now furnishes cooling liquid for horses and canines at its new stand on Watertown street.

25 Years Ago

Notwithstanding the heat of last week Thursday night several hundred Elks gathered at the Elks Club in Newton to celebrate the "night before" and incidentally to pay a well deserved tribute to ex-Alderman Leavitt for the many years of his service to the city. The program was in charge of Messrs. George M. Cox, Edwin O. Childs and J. Edward Callanan. Mr. Bentley was given a good fountain pen as a souvenir of the evening.

Mr. James A. Early, for many years postmaster at Newton Lower Falls and superintendent of the post office there for the past 25 years died on Monday at his home, 93 Washington street.

The removal of the old school building on Ash street, Auburn-dale is an event in the history of the village and yet how few knew that it was gone. For many years every child in Auburn-dale went to school there for it was the only school building. It was built in 1846 and remodelled in 1865 as the number of pupils increased. A Mansard roof was added to accommodate an assembly room, and for many years this was the only hall in the village. The hall was very inaccessible and dangerous and was finally condemned for public use, and the pupils were all taken to the Williams School as soon as it was ready. The building remained unoccupied for some years when, to accommodate the small children on the north side, Miss Aiken's kindergarten was opened there, and it again became useful. But with the building of the Charles C. Burr School next door its usefulness was over. The grounds are being leveled and graded and will be used in connection with the playground which has been much too small for its needs.

Clothing for Britain

The British Workshop Division of the British War Relief Society, 69 Newbury street, Boston, makes an urgent appeal for good used clothing of all kinds for men, women and children. The destruction and suffering caused by the Nazis new terror weapon, the robot plane, is widening. Also there are 10,000 French refugees in London and more are pouring in. The need for clothing is desperate.

There is moreover great need for old linen and cotton such as bed and tablelinen, towels, old blankets, etc., and for pieces of colored cottons suitable for patchwork.

Mrs. Samuel M. Braman, 187 Park st., Newton, Tel. Las. 3874, will gladly receive garments, etc., if they cannot be taken directly to the British Workshop and will see that they are sent to 69 Newbury st.

Rotary Club

Last Friday market the beginning of a new Rotary year, consequently, instead of a featured speaker, a "get-together" was observed.

Committee reports were read by Orr. Clapper, Charlie Ansley, Rupert Thompson, Warren Oliver, Roy Edwards, Cecil Clark, Ev. Pierce and Hal Gores, and proved conclusively that the Newton Rotary Club is functioning.

The major event occurred when Ex. Governor Charlie Meeker duly installed Warren Oliver as vice president, and gave Warren a charge which didn't phase him a bit. The big fireworks followed immediately, when Charles introduced Orville as president for the new year. Orville, realizing it was a hot day, refused to make a lengthy acceptance speech, for which we were duly grateful. As is the new custom, Orville was presented with his president's badge which, to say the least, is a work of art, something of which to be very proud. Here's wishing Orville a happy and successful year and may he rest assured that the gang is all behind him.

Next Friday the speaker will be E. Allen Burt, professor of advertising at Boston University School of Business Administration. Professor Burt is a member of the Brookline Club and his subject will be "Some Post-War Re-Employment Problems." Cecil Clark is the sponsor and it stands to reason that the speaker will be of outstanding interest to all of us, as the problems ahead are without precedent.

The following message from President Herb was read—"May I take this opportunity to sincerely thank the Board of Directors, Committee Chairmen, and all who served so well and so faithfully during the 1943-44 year. Only by experience can you fellows realize the pleasure and honor in serving the Newton Rotary Club. I have enjoyed it tremendously, even if your fellows didn't. May I also express my appreciation of the co-operation of Walter Gregg, Frank Frykstrand, Lou Haffner, Ed. Drake, and Larry Frederick, as well as others who so enthusiastically carried on their activities during the meeting day. Thanks a million!"

Newton Lions Club

At the last weekly meeting of the Newton Lions Club at the "Y," Richard Fennelly of Newtonville was installed President and "King Lion" by the newly elected District Governor, Herbert Dale of Marblehead. The occasion was a Ladies' Night affair over which outgoing President David A. Buxbaum presided.

Other officers elected for the new year were Asa D. Blackless, 1st V. P.; Raymond Gorman, 2nd V. P.; Philip J. McHugh, 3rd V. P.; Austin W. Flint, Secretary-Treasurer; George N. McNeil, Tail-Twister; and John W. Tapper, Lion Tamer.

New directors were George Corner and William House. A new member, Louis Testone, was inducted into the club, thus the successful year which the Lions have enjoyed under King Lion Dave Buxbaum ended in the same manner as the year in which it commenced when Dave inducted a new member as his first official act.

It was announced that meetings would be suspended for the month of August.

City Acquires Real Estate For Non-Payment of Taxes

The City of Newton has taken over a total of 168 parcels of real estate on which $20,505.92 in 1943 taxes are due according to announcement made by Clarence C. Colby, City Treasurer and Collector.

The total number of parcels taken this year is less than 50 per cent of the total taken over last year. Of the 168 parcels taken this year 96 are "improved property" and 72 parcels are vacant land. The taxes unpaid on the 1943 assessments include $19,147.08 for "improved property" and $1,358.84 on vacant lots.

The collector has 60 days after the taking of the property before he must record the titles. In the meantime, the owners may redeem the titles by paying the amounts due. After the deeds have been recorded, the former owners have two years in which to redeem the property before the city acquired ownership.

Newton Junior Community Club

The Newton Junior Community Club members, who already have been very active serving tea at Devens, selling gardenias at Pops, and ushering at the musical comedy "Direct Hit" which climaxed the Fifth War Loan Drive, planned a busy program for the coming season at their first organization meeting Wednesday night in the Colonial Room of the Newton Y. M. C. A.

The officers for the 1944-45 season are Miss Ruth W. Aldrich, president; Miss Jane Mansfield, vice-president; Mrs. Raymond Garon, recording secretary; Miss Yvonne Matis, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Herbert Hopkins, treasurer. Guests at the meeting were the three new advisors from the Newton Community Club, which sponsors the Juniors. Mrs. Heron B. Dumas, who was on the advisory committee last season, and who is now the new chairman, introduced Mrs. Arthur H. Lord and Mrs. George A. Sampson who will work with the club during the year.

Committee chairmen are as follows:

By-Laws, Mrs. Marjorie Bassett; Community Service and War Work, Miss Rhoda White and Miss Margaret Wilson; Hospitality, Miss Audrey Fitzgerald; Membership, Miss Karen Erickson; Music, Mrs. Dumas; Mrs. Vincent Morrison; Nominating, Miss Alice Andersen; Publicity, Mrs. Thomas Seely; Remembrance, Miss Hazel Noyes; Scrap Books, Miss Ruth Dieffenbach and Miss Mifflin Morrow; Social, Miss Virginia Modell and Mrs. S. S. Dodd; Sports, Miss Harriet Taskin; Ways and Means, Miss Jane Mansfield and Year Book, Miss Dorothy Howe.

The program planned was one using war work as a theme. It will include a play to be given in conjunction with future tea at the different hospitals for servicemen and three dances, plus the regular war work activities. Also included in the plans was the Mother and Daughter night which will celebrate the club's fifth birthday and a joint meeting with the other clubs in the State Federation when Miss Elizabeth Powers, the Federation Travel Scholarship winner, will tell of her experiences at the convention she attended.

Refreshments were served to the group by Mrs. Herbert Hopkins and Miss Alice Andersen.

Mayor Denies Treddin Pension

Mayor Paul M. Goddard has denied a request by the Newton Post, American Legion, that he reconsider his refusal to grant the application of Patrolman Thomas Treddin of the Newton Police for retirement a half-pay pension under the Veterans' Retirement Law. The mayor gave his answer last Thursday to a committee that called on him after it had been instructed to do so by vote of the members of the post at a recent special meeting. The committee conveyed to the mayor the request of the post that the pension be granted.

Patrolman Treddin, who is married, is confined to the Veterans' Hospital at West Roxbury. He applied for retirement under the provision of the law that war veterans in the employ of the city may be retired on a half pay pension if incapacitated. Patrolman Treddin receives a total disability pension of $1200 a year from the Federal Government.

The committee argued that the law precludes consideration of any payments from the federal government in deciding on the merits of the veteran's application for retirement under the provisions of the law.

A special meeting of the executive committee of the American Legion post will be called by Commander Norman I. Patterson to receive the report of the committee and decide what action to take on it. The committee consists of Dennis M. Cronin, chairman; Dr. Cecil Clark, William Wilson, A. W. Peterson, and John Keller.

Local Boy's Hobby Is Hunting Japs

SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC—Pvt. Tracy L. Howard, Jr., was high on a coconut palm, stringing vital communication wires, when suddenly three shots rang out from a nearby Bofur gun. Air raid! Hardly had the echo of the bursts died away before three Zeros came swooping down from the clouds, machine guns blazing. Hugging the base, Howard watched them zoom past, bullets whistling by his ears, then continued tying up the wire.

"It gets to be an almost everyday occurrence," he said. "You get used to them after a while."

Pvt. Howard entered the Army in May, 1942, at Boston, and took his Signal Corps training at Ft. Monmouth, N. J. He sailed overseas in December of the same year, with Major-Gen. Horace H. Fuller's Forty-First Division.

His wife lives at 33 Charles-brook road, Newton, Mass. Before entering the Army Howard was a musician.

Three brothers are also in the service; John in India, Lloyd in the Marshall Islands, and Jim "somewhere at sea" with the Navy.

Hunting Japs is his hobby, by right now he says. "I want to go home and lead a peaceful life."

Appeal for Materials

The thoughtfulness and generosity of many house-keepers in Newton for many years encourages us to again ask for left-over materials. Odds and ends gathered during the year such as spoons, stockings, ribbons, tape, pieces of silk or cloth, paper dolls, embroidery materials and woolen articles are greatly welcomed. The response in this has always been generous and the materials donated have helped to keep many hundreds of little children busy and happy during the summervacation.

If you have a donation, the Recreation Department will call for it at your home by appointment. Call Recreation Department, Bigelow 4700.

commandments." (Matthew 19:16, 17).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "The Science of Mind and Health with

JUST WHAT IS A TRAINEE?

With the word trainee popping up in all the papers these days, an uncertainty has settled down on a day in industry, can start work and actually be taught their jobs while earning a good full week's pay. Raytheon provides highly trained instructors to sit right down with you and show you carefully and slowly—a step at a time

—just what the procedure is doing your particular job. There's no rushing you, and mistakes are tossed off lightly by instructors.

Complicated theory is out the window in our training; instead, a new Ray works right with the material, and tells themselves what she can get the feel or instinct as to how it should be done.

When asked about her job, one girl replied that the thing she liked about it best of all, was her instructor. And she has a point there. Raytheon's instructors are ready with good-natured grin and a word of encouragement to help the new Rays over those first days so that in short order they are fast operators, holding Certificates of Training, going about their work with all the confidence and assurance that you usually see only in well-trained soldiers.

Letter to the "What's Cookin'" Committee

July 4, 1944
Somewhere in France

Dear Sirs,

I have just received my copy of "What's Cookin' in Newton." I was exceptionally glad to get this copy. When I turned to page four, staring me in the face was a picture of "good old Newtonville." I have lived in Newtonville all my life, so you can just imagine how I felt. I must say it was a sight for "sore eyes." My thanks to "What's Cookin'" for printing it. You boys are doing a wonderful job with your paper. You print the right kind of information. The kind that all us service men are interested in. I think about one of your best items is "The Newton Merry Go Round," written by Paul Considine. He does a splendid job. All of the paper is good though, and I felt that I just had to write and let you know that we appreciate it very much. Thanks again for the picture of the good old town which I have hopes of returning to shortly. Keep up the good work and the best of luck to you. P.S. Hope you can read this. Sincerely,

Pvt. Paul Shinnick
This is one of hundreds of letters received from service men expressing their appreciation of "What's Cookin'."—Editor.

N.H.S. Class of '45 First Beneficiaries Under Warren Fund

The class of 1945 of the Newton High School will be the first to benefit from the Warren Scholarship Fund established in memory of Levi E. Warren, Sarah A. Warren, Helen P. Warren, and M. Alice Warren.

Miss M. Alice Warren, who died at her home, 320 Otis street, West Newton, on May 9, at the age of 85 years, has, by her will, established this memorial to her father, Levi F. Warren, after whom the Junior High School was named, her mother, Sarah A. Warren, her sister, and herself, teachers all. Miss Alice Warren taught for a number of years at the Pierce School in West Newton, and after a further period of training, went on the staff of the State Teachers' College in Salem. There she was an instructor in physical education and taught many branches of natural science.

These Warrens were great educators—to them education meant the awakening of the mind without the mind, believing that would lead to all kinds of progress. That they were successful in this was attested to in the innumerable letters that came to them from all over the country each year, testifying to their admiration, affection, and gratitude. It is quite in keeping with that principle that Miss Warren bequeathed to the Newton Trust Company, in trust, the sum of forty thousand dollars, the net income each year forever, to be applied to assist needy and deserving students, who are graduates of the Newton High School, in obtaining a college education, or higher education in music. While Miss Warren made the basis for award, character, leadership, scholarship, and need of financial assistance, she was not oblivious of the student, who, though not gifted with great intellect, is possessed of the determination to progress regardless, for it is provided there may be disregarded academic standing, provided the recipient is otherwise worthy of assistance.

The fund will be administered by the committee of five: the Superintendent of the Newton Schools, the Principal of the Newton High School, and three members from among the officers and directors of the Newton Trust Company. The fund will draw interest from the date of Miss Warren's death so that there will be funds on hand to start the award of scholarships in May, 1945.

Rev. C. T. Allen Writes Article for Methodist Publication

Charles T. Allen, pastor of Newton Methodist Church, Newton, Mass., is writer of a devotional message which will be circulated on July 20, to more than a million readers of THE UPPER ROOM, widely read book of devotions published by The Commission on Evangelism of The Methodist Church at Nashville, Tennessee. THE UPPER ROOM which was founded by the late Dr. Grover C. Emmons, is now being edited by his editorial assistants and other members of the staff. His successor will be elected by the Board of Evangelism when the new board is set up in July at the meeting in Chicago.

Invitations to contribute to THE UPPER ROOM are extended to outstanding leaders, and, on account of the book's popularity, are accounted a high honor. Mr. Allen's meditation is based on Isa 50:7—"For the Lord God will help me; therefore shall I not be confounded; Therefore have I said, I shall not be ashamed." A comment on the Scriptural passage, a prayer and a "Thought for" (Continued on Page 2)

Bill Cunningham Has Narrow Escape

Elijah W. "Bill" Cunningham, noted newspaper columnist, of 42 Sheffield road, Newtonville, had a narrow escape from serious injury at Northampton, Mass., on Monday while on his way to attend the Democratic National Convention at Chicago.

Cunningham was a passenger on the "Minute Man" which made a stop at North Adams where a group of about 200 people had gathered on the platform to cheer the delegation. With Mayor Tobin of Boston and others he had alighted and was about to address the crowd when the train started. Mayor Tobin succeeded in pulling himself aboard but Cunningham lost his grip on the railing and fell and only for the prompt action of Ph. M. 1-Louis Wheeler and Andrew Lobo who pulled him out of the way, would have rolled under the wheels of the train. His clothing was torn and he received bruises about his hands and knees. The train was stopped and Cunningham proceeded on his journey.

Risks Jap Sniper's Bullet To Aid Wounded Marine

Lt.-Comdr. Bristol H. Nelson of 116 Arnold road, Newton Centre, a Navy physician attached to the U. S. Marine Corps recently chanced death from the gun of a Japanese sniper while giving aid to a wounded Marine who had been shot by the sniper at Saipan.

The sniper who had already killed one Marine and wounded another who had gone to assist his comrade, had his gun aimed at Comdr. Nelson and his two assistants, Pharmacist's Mate 1-c Blaine Rideout and Chief Pharmacist's Mate William Ellsworth Duncan, but for some unknown reason, probably to save his own life, did not fire.

The medical men on being congratulated on the rescue of the Marine, declined to take credit for it, saying that the person who really saved the man's life was the unknown person who had donated the blood plasma without which there would have been no point in bringing the man out. Comdr. Nelson, a noted obstetrician, was before the war, on the staff of three major Boston hospitals and a professor of gynecology and obstetrics at Harvard.

Sgt. Martin War Prisoner, Previously Reported Missing

Sgt. Martin was a ball turret gunner on the plane. He was graduated from Newton High School in 1940 where he was an honor student, and was prominent in basketball and a swimming star at the Newton Y. M. C. A. Before enlisting on Feb. 26, 1942, he had been employed at the Watertown Arsenal. He trained at Denver, Colorado and Tucson, Arizona before going overseas in April of this year.

His father is a lieutenant in the Newton Fire Department and a veteran of World War I. Three brothers in the service are 1st Lieut. John L. Martin, Jr., an infantry officer in France; Pvt. Harfany officer in France; Pvt. Robert, also in the infantry, who is in England; Pfc. Robert, stationed at Norfolk, Va. ## Commissioner Wilson For Recreation Building As World War Memorial

Have You Small Pieces of Plywood?

The youngsters of the Newton Playgrounds are in dire need of small pieces of plywood or other wood easy to cut and plane. High priorities on this kind of lumber has made it impossible to secure and the youngsters are yearning for wood to work with.

Commissioner F. Ewing Wilson has issued an appeal for Newton people to search their homes for this wood and the thanks of the children will be abundant for even small scraps. The wood should be brought to the nearest playground, or a phone call to the Recreation Department at City Hall will cause someone to be sent for it.

It is a war effort to maintain our youngsters morale.

Newton Beaches Closed, Reopened

All three of the Newton beaches which were closed last week by the Recreation Department have now been re-opened as the Newton Health Department has reported that tests of the water at the Crystal Lake, the Newton Upper Falls and Allison beaches show no evidence of pollution in the latest tests.

The three beaches were closed last Friday by the Recreation Department after the Health Department reported the unfavorable results of the bacteriological examination of samples of water from these places. Since then, however, the pollution, believed to have been washed into the bodies of water by the heavy rains, had disappeared as shown by the new tests.

For the protection of the public, however, the Health Department will continue the periodical examination of samples of water at all bathing places under the supervision of the city.

The Newton Recreation Department announces the reopening of the bathing beaches at Crystal Lake and Newton Upper Falls. Bacteriological examination of samples of the water at these beaches by the Health Department reveals that the pollution which caused the closing of these beaches last week has disappeared.

Allison Beach, Nornantum still remains closed as the latest analysis of the water at this beach still showed presence of pollution. Dr. Ernest M. Morris announced on Monday that the water at Crystal Lake, and at the Allison and Newton Upper Falls beaches will be examined at frequent intervals to ascertain when those beaches may again be opened to the public.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Graf of Chestnut street have returned from a trip to Philadelphia.

Rotary Club

At the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club held at the Charles Rotary Country Club, Newton Centre on Friday, Professor E. Allen Burt, professor of advertising at Boston University School of Business Administration offered a lot of food for thought by giving a most interesting discussion of post-war re-employment problems. He emphasized the necessity of starting to make comprehensive and overall plans now rather than wait until the war is over. Government charity he stated as a cure for unemployment does not work. Continuance of free enterprise in a democratic state is essential to a successful solution. Every community should have a central information office to advise and assist every unemployed, not only veterans, but also war workers.

"TOO HOT TO HANDLE"

The public school system is, and ought to be, the first line of defense of American democracy. That is why fair treatment as between pupils of different races, different backgrounds, and different degrees of family wealth and culture is a constant necessity. If our young citizens don't find democracy in the tax-supported schools, where will they find it? And what will democracy mean to them? Empty phrase of reality?

We think the test of democracy is always how well it stands up in emergencies and in unpleasant situations. There is black, ugly, race prejudice being preached in this land. A lot of the most nasty ideas of this kind were manufactured in Berlin and peddled to the United States via shortwave radio.

Now by common agreement of most Americans the American school teacher is recognized as a fine character, conscientious, hard-working, devoted to goodness as a principle. And yet we have been shocked during this war to hear that school teachers in some parts of our country are saying among themselves that certain issues of democracy must not be mentioned because they were "too hot to handle" in mixed groups of students.

We can think of nothing more anti-democratic than substituting hush-hush for free, frank and open discussion of frictions. If we don't believe the people can arrive at sound decisions if confronted with the facts then we must wonder if we really believe in—at least when it comes to applying—democracy. Decency is never too hot to handle.

FROM JITTERBUG TO ANGEL

Out of the untold suffering of the war comes the brightest career opportunity of all times for the girl graduate of our high school.

Most high school graduates are too young to enter the armed services, yet they dream of wearing a uniform and having a share in the winning of the war. This dream comes true for the girl who joins the Nurse Cadet Corps, which accepts women between the ages of 17 and 35.

She can pledge herself to membership in the United States Nurse Cadet Corps. She can choose from 1300 established schools the one in which she will be trained, with all expenses paid plus a monthly allowance so that she may take her place in a proud profession.

She can become a graduate nurse in months less than the three years it used to take, in as much as the schools of nursing have accelerated their training programs to meet the need for thousands more nurses. She can wear the becoming outdoor uniform of the United States Nurse Cadet Corps. But more important still, she can know that, almost as soon as she starts training, she will be helping to ease the burden carried by graduate nurses in our woefully understaffed hospitals; that she will be helping to release older, more experienced nurses for immediate service with our armed forces.

Cahill vs. Tobin

It seems to me to be worthwhile this week to devote some space to the very serious situation confronting the Republican party in this state next November. Let's not kid ourselves. In the first place, the Dewey board of strategy appears to realize that Massachusetts is one of the truly doubtful states. This is one reason why our Governor and our Junior Senator were hastily called into conference by Gov. Dewey shortly after the close of the GOP convention in Chicago. Our two leading delegates have long been known as strong Willie adherents and it was a bit obvious that they were hoping until the last minute that something might happen to bring Willie back into the picture. Instead of that, the master-minds at Chicago determined to keep Willie away from the convention and the result was just a chance that he would make a vital, heart-warming speech and upset the carefully-arranged apple-cart. How tragic that would have been! Or would it?

What I want to get at this week, however, is the purely local aspect of the November election. Consider what we have in the cards for a gubernatorial fight. Lt. Governor Horace T. Cahill versus Mayor Maurice J. Tobin of Boston. Already you can hear the prophets of gloom announcing that Tobin will be our next Governor. Why?

To begin with, the neighboring towns of Brookline and Wellesley, which are both very strongly Republican, reflected a marked disposition on the part of quite a few Republicans to "cast" Cahill as they marked their ballots for various uncontested offices. In Brookline, there were four candidates who ran ahead of Cahill, as follows: Saltonstall, Herter, Fred W. Cook and State Senator Bowers. Our Governor got 2884 votes and Bowers got 2704. Then Cahill with 2690. In Wellesley it was even worse. There we find five candidates running ahead of the Lt. Governor. Even Sheriff Wragg, County Commissioner Cavitt and Councillor Haver ran ahead of Cahill, who received 1817 votes as against Gov. Saltonstall's 2002. Later on, when the state-wide vote is completely tabulated and recounted, it will be possible to appraise this angle more accurately. In the meantime, it gives all Republicans something to think about.

Now, what is it that makes Tobin so strong? First and foremost, he is young, handsome and charming. And don't forget that the ladies will control the election this fall. Next, remember that Tobin has built up the most perfect political organization in the city of Boston. I am told that there is not a single street which does not have at least one worker for Tobin active there. Think what that means in terms of getting out the vote next November. Then we have Sidney Hillman's Political Action Committee, which is back of the Boston Mayor. This of course, may be a mixed blessing. The famous PAC took a licking when they tried to knock off Curley, Philbin and Carey, three important Congressional candidates. All that they salvaged was Congressman McCormack, who would have won anyway, and Mayor Tobin, who was also destined to win.

Here we have the most interesting point of all. It is a fact that Maurice Tobin was built up to a certain extent, by the very Republicans who are now frantically looking for ways and means to knock him over. To be sure, their intention was merely to build him up to Mayoral size, in order that Greater Boston Republicans might be rid of Curleyism and the like. Nothing was further from their thoughts than to raise him to gubernatorial standing. But that is precisely what they have done. Can they unscramble the eggs they so carefully scrambled? They have less than four months to do it. Furthermore, Mayor Tobin has been constantly in the limelight ever since he took office. Can my readers think of many days during the past six years when the pictures of Governor Saltonstall and Mayor Tobin have NOT appeared in at least one of the Boston papers? To be sure, this has not been entirely accidental. The Governor's friends have been quietly but persistently building him up to Dark-horse size prior to the recent convention. Mayor Tobin's friends, presumably, have been doing the same thing, although their eyes have been on the Governorship.

What about Lt. Governor Cahill himself? What is wrong? Possibly, one difficulty is that he has been too long in the shadow of our esteemed Governor. Many people do not seem to know him. I talked with a State Representative yesterday who told me that he had never laid eyes on Mr. Cahill. That's bad, if it is typical. Again, to be brutally frank, there are a great many Republicans who have never cared much for Mr. Cahill for a variety of reasons, good, bad and indifferent. Give these Republicans a chance to vote for a glamor-boy who has far more appeal than Gov. Ely had in his best days, and you begin to glimpse the possibilities.

Story Telling Intrigues Youngsters

The success of the story-telling hour on the playgrounds last summer was a highlight of the season, and the Newton Recreation Commission through the efforts of Commissioner F. Ewing Wilson, has continued this project again this summer.

Mrs. Rachel Roberts has been assigned as the story teller, and already the youngsters of the different playgrounds of Newton anxiously await her stories. Mrs. Roberts visits each playground according to schedule once a week. The children gather at a shady spot under a tree and Mrs. Roberts asks for suggestions of the type of story which they wish for: forest tales, war, animal, adventure, detective, or just a good girl and boy story. It is natural that the little tots prefer animal stories, and their older brothers' war stories, but the good old "Everybody knows them" adventures of Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn have to be retold often. Mark Twain's memory will live forever if Newton boys and girls have their way.

The torrid heat of the last few weeks added tremendously to the value of story-telling, for active play was forbidden on many playgrounds. The children, however, also induced many instructors to conduct story telling periods which encouraged children to tell stories interesting to the group. Many children went away from the playgrounds feeling that they had shared their talents with others, and had made for themselves a pleasant, comfortable day in defiance of "old man weather" at 93 deg. F.

The parents in the different villages of Newton are invited to send their children to the playgrounds to listen to the stories of Mrs. Roberts, and also acquaint themselves with the all-day programs of the playgrounds. Parents are invited to all the playgrounds at any time. There is no special hour for them. All playgrounds are open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Following is the schedule of Mrs. Roberts' visits to the different playgrounds.

Monday, 1:30 - 5 p.m.
Stearns, Hawthorn, Carr.
Tuesday, 9:30 - 12 a.m.

Kiwanis Club

The weekly meeting of Newton Kiwanis Club was held on Tuesday, July 18 at the Newton Y. M. C. A. Walter A. Hood presided and was duly installed as President for the coming year by our Past International Trustee—Jim Gallagher.

Mrs. Andrews served a delicious roast beef, corn on the cob, all the fixings dinner. She also furnished the basket lunches for the outing of the New England Peabody Home crippled children, held under the auspices of Kiwanis, at Nantumbaga Park on Wednesday afternoon, the 19th.

Archie Bellinger put the battle of songs over in a large way. William Stewart of the Elmira, New York club paid a visit, and Herb Lieberman had as his guest Roy Newcombe, Agency Supervisor of the Continental Casualty Company. Prizes went to Roy Newcombe, Frank Lombardi, Archie Bellinger, and Percy Trundle, in that order.

Archie Bellinger, Program Committee Chairman, showed us some stirring war pictures. He also presented the club with a new flag and emblem to be hung with our roll of honor. He spoke about the American flag as a great realization of the significance of our flag—traced its origin—and opened new realms of thought and appreciation for our flag and for what it stands.

the day" comprise the devotion. In his comment he says, among other things, "This virtue of faith must operate in many phases of life. We must have faith in ourselves, in our work, in our interests and activities, in our friends, in our country, and in the moral integrity of mankind. But we can have none of these in adequate fashion unless back of them all we have faith in God, who created the world and continues to direct its affairs."

Not only Mr. Allen's meditation be read by millions of persons in American homes but thousands of copies of THE UPPER ROOM will go to Uncle Sam's boys in the armed service and to nationals in many lands. Other thousands will go to corrective and benevolent institutions. Soldiers and sailors receive individual copies mailed in red, white and blue envelopes. There is a special edition printed in Braille for the blind. Foreign language editions are issued in Spanish, Portuguese, Korean, and Hindustani.

NEWTON In The Past

55 Years Ago

Newton Graphic, July 19, 1889

A gospel text meeting is to be held next Thursday afternoon and evening at the corner of Salem and Maple streets, Watertown, continuing probably for two weeks. All are invited.

The Newton & Watertown Gas Company are laying out circuits for the incandescent lamps, and 5 have been laid out, among them circuits at Lower Falls, Upper Falls and Chestnut Hill. The new street lights will be heartily welcomed in those places, as they take the place of the dim-religious light given by the oil lamps.

Work on the basement of St. Bernard's church, was commenced yesterday, the contract having been awarded to Messrs. Bailey & Harwood of New City. The plans for the new edifice have been prepared by the architect, Mr. P. W. Ford, of Boston. The architecture will be similar to the old church, although the building will be larger. The auditorium will have a seating capacity accommodating over 900 persons, and the gallery will be built deeper in order to secure more seating space. The building will be built of brick, and will cost in the vicinity of $50,000.

The police department is anxiously waiting for the police signal system for which an appropriation was made several months ago. Indications point to a delay which will carry the settlement of the question over into the affairs of next year. Ultimately, however, the city will possess what is required in the way of a police system and a little patient waiting may be crowned with the best results in the end.

Extensive repairs are going on at the Underwood School, Newton, and in connection with these repairs it might be well to add a much needed fire escape. The rooms on the upper floor of the private ward of the Newton Hospital are being refitted, and will soon be ready for use. Patients can get a room with board and the services of a nurse for as low as $15 per week.

Part of the road bed for the new boulevard, between Hammond and Ward street is completed, and visitors can now get an idea of what the boulevard will look like when completed. It has a reserved space in the center for electric cars, and a roadway on either side. From Hammond street westward for about half a mile, the boulevard will command a magnificent view of the distant hills, and in a clear day Mt. Wachusett can be seen. This alone will make the new boulevard very popular for sightseers, and sites along this section will be especially desirable for residences.

Half a dozen of the local bicyclists (Newtonites) including some prominent professional men, took a trip to the Point of Pines last Saturday on their wheels.

At a meeting held in the State Armory, West Newton, on Monday evening, over 400 veterans of the late war with Germany were present and adopted a constitution and bylaws and elected permanent officers. Captain Edward Edmunds, Jr., temporary commander, presided.

Thousands of persons who use the elevated cars to reach their places of business in Boston have been seriously inconvenienced by the strike which went into effect yesterday morning. As a consequence the B. & A. service has been curtailed to the utmost and special trains have been run to accommodate the traffic.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST OF NEWTON Service—Sunday, 10:45—
Wednesday, 8:00 P.M.

In The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, and in all of its branches a Lesson-Sermon will be read on Sunday, July 23, on the subject "Truth."

The Golden Text, "Thou, O Lord, art a God full of compassion, and gracious, long-suffering, and plenteous in mercy and truth" is from Romans 8:15. Other Scripture selections include, "All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: That the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works" (II Timothy 3:16,17).

Also included in the Lesson-Sermon will be the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. "Our aim must be to have them understood spiritually, for only by this understanding can truth be gained. . . . It is this spiritual perception of Scripture which lifts humanity out of disease and death and inspires faith. . . . Christian Science separates error from truth, and breathes through the sacred pages the spiritual sense of life, substance, and intelligence" (pp. 647, 648).

Music Programs At Lasell

Concentrating on teacher training in music which will contribute most effectively to schools and communities during war time, The American Institute of Normal Methods is holding its 61st annual session at Lasell Junior College, Auburndale, Massachusetts. The largest enrollment since pre-war and pre-depression days includes school music from eighteen states and from Canada.

On Saturday, July 22, at 3 p.m. an outdoor festival, based on Stephen Vincent Benet's epic poem "Western Star" will be performed on the West Campus. Boys and girls of the Newton School which has been offering special music classes to the children of Newton through co-operation with the Board of Education and Mr. James Remley, Director of Music, will participate in the dancing and singing by a cast of more than one hundred and fifty. The festival production comes under the direction of Miss Andronike Mekeles, Supervisor of Music in the elementary grades of Reading, Massachusetts, and Mrs. Edna Doll, Director of the dance in the East Orange High School, East Orange, New Jersey.

In Winslow Hall, on Sunday evening, July 23, at 7:30, the Institute will present a concert in memory of Mrs. Nellie Wicher Shaw, late Director of Music of Brockton, Massachusetts, and for many years a member of the faculty of the Institute. Selections from Horatio Parker's "Hora Novissima" and from Pergolesi's "Stabat Mater" will be conducted by Francis Findlay, head of the public school music of the New England Conservatory.

On Monday evening in Winslow Hall at 8, the 18th Choral and Orchestral Festival will present a varied program including a group of Bach Chorales, selections by the orchestra under the direction of Mr. Paul Herfurth, Director of Instrumental Music in East Orange, New Jersey. A modern dance group under the direction of Mrs. Edna Doll, and a scene from "Aida" conducted by Dr. Osbourne McConathy, Director of the Institute.

The commencement program takes place on Tuesday evening, July 25, in Winslow Hall at 8 p.m. Members of the graduating class will conduct chorus and orchestra. One feature of the program will be a sequence from "Pinafore" staged and performed by all the students from Winslow Hall.

The commencement speaker will be Dr. Raymond Wass who has recently assumed his new duties as Assistant to the President at Lasell Junior College. To all of these programs, the public is cordially invited.

His brother, Pfc. Cole is with the Army in England.

Wounded In Action Home On Furlough

Shortly after Mr. and Mrs. Vincenzo Iagulli of 22 Rockland street, Newton Highlands, had received word from the War Department that their son, Pfc. Carmello Iagulli, 26, had been slightly wounded in action in Normandy, another son, Staff Sgt. Raffaele "Pete" Iagulli, 30, a member of a tank destroyer battalion, who had been wounded twice during a year and a half of service in the Mediterranean area, arrived home unexpectedly fully recovered from his wounds.

"Pete" who has been in the Army for eight years was a platoon sergeant in a tank destroyer outfit. He landed in North Africa with the famed First Division, a few days after the American invasion in November 1942. He was wounded in Tunisia in the spring of 1943 and again at the Anzio beachhead and was confined to a hospital for 10 weeks. He was awarded the Purple Heart with an Oak Leaf Cluster and his battalion received a citation from the commanding general for their accomplishments in Africa and Italy.

A graduate of the Newton Trade School he enlisted in the Army and served his first hitch at the Hawaiian Islands. On re-enlisting he joined the First Division.

Following a 22 day furlough he will report at an Army Camp in South Carolina.

Two other sons of the Iagullis are in the services, Sgt. Angelo, 24, who is stationed in an Infantry unit at North Carolina and Michael, 22, who is in the Navy. Another son, Tony, 23, was recently given a medical discharge after serving in the Army for three years.

Carmello Iagulli is married and has an infant son whom he has never seen. Their home is in Waltham.

Missing in Action Wife Gets Air Medal

At a retreat parade followed by a formal ceremony the Air Medal won by Second Lieutenant David W. O'Boyle, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. David W. O'Boyle, Sr., 102 Grassmere, Newton, Mass., now missing in action, over Europe, was presented Friday at Scott Field, parent radio school of the Army Air Forces Training Command, to his wife, Mrs. Margery E. O'Boyle, 7554 Haver st., Richmond Heights, Mo.

The decoration was presented to Mrs. O'Boyle by Col. F. F. Christine while hundreds of radio students stood smartly at attention. Her son was born only a short time ago to Lt. and Mrs. O'Boyle and named after his father who has never seen the infant.

According to the citation read by Col. Christine the medal was awarded to the lieutenant "for exceptionally meritorious achievement while participating in five separate bomber combat missions over enemy occupied continental Europe."

"The courage, coolness and skill displayed by this officer upon these occasions reflect great credit upon himself and the Armed Forces of the United States," the citation read.

Accompanying Mrs. O'Boyle to Scott Field were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Druff, 7554 Haver st., Richmond Heights, Mo., former residents of Denver, Colo.

THE FOURTH . . .

Being as how it takes "What's Cookin'" a little while to get around, any news now about the Fourth of July, may seem a bit stale. However, several of the letter writers mentioned above requested a little general information concerning The Night Before in Their Garden City and any particular high jinks performed on the Great Day . . .

So, briefly . . . Boston was lively The Night Before, what with so many servicemen and women in circulation. The clubs were filled and, apparently, everybody managed to have fun. Most of the revelers, though, were in uniform and ninety per cent of the girls were clinging to uniformed arms. . . .

When, as usual, the celebration began arriving in Newton Corner—from midnight on—there was none of the joyous singing and cheering and horn blowing of other years. The crowds were subdued and, seemingly, with the hearts of most of them far away, all were content to call it a night.

The Corner was deserted at an early hour and to those of you who remember this end of town on The Night Before The Fourth in the good old days before Hitler decided on suicide, you'd just think it another early Tuesday a.m.

HURT HIS DIGNITY . . .

Many of you ex-owls may get a chuckle in recalling one Night Before The Fourth when a more or less prominent resident above requested a little general information concerning The Night Before in Their Garden City and any particular high jinks performed on the Great Day . . .

rectly opposite the 'more or less prominent resident's' open window. One of them 'just kind of happened to gaze toward the open window as the 'M.O.L.P.R. emerged from his shower—his pal sort of aimed the 'kyrocket, touched a match to it, and BULLSEYE!

Yea brethren! The Corner wasn't the same this year. It won't be either, until you all come home.

AROUND TOWN . . .

Eben Thompson, the old Boston Post reporter on this way, is now a member of Uncle Sam's armed forces. A private in the Army. Eb. spent much time in Newton Corner with Arthur Shinnier of the Herald . . . Johnny Campbell, who worked so long with us here, is an A-1 sailor now. Johnny joined the Boston police force after he left the Corner and his first job as a limb of the law, was to enter a house in Dorchester and remove an inebriated gentleman, whose better half objected to his presence and condition. The inebriated gentleman, however, owned a dog and the dog, taking sides, decided he didn't want Campbell around either. So they all had kind of a free-for-all, with Campbell dragging the inebriate one way and the dog, with a good hold on Campbell's trousers, pulling the opposite direction. The arrival of reserves saved Campbell's dignity, but as a result, and by his own say so, poor Campbell ate from the mantle piece for the following two weeks. Hope he finds the going a little easier in the Navy. . . .

SPORTS IN A NUTSHELL

By Bill

The National League All-Stars handed the American League their worst beating in the twelve games played by them since these games started back in 1933. Bucky Walters received the honor of starting pitcher for the Nationals and Hank Borowy for the Americans.

The Americans were leading 1-0 going into the fifth, Connie Ryan second baseman for the Braves, opened the fifth inning with a single off Tex Hughson, Red Sox star pitcher, Marty Marion struck out as Ryan stole second, Nicholson batted for Raffenberg and lined a double down the right field foul line scoring Ryan and tying the score. Augie Galan singled, scoring Nicholson. Cavarretta batted for Stan Musial hit to Bobby Doerr and George McQuinn dropped the ball for an error, loading the bases. Walter Cooper singled to left, scoring Galan, but when Cavarretta tried to score, Bob Johnson threw him out at the plate.

Dis Walker singled, scoring Musial with the fourth run of the inning. Bob Murfice replaced Hughson and retired Elliott. That fifth inning was the ball game as Sewell and our own Jim Tobin did not allow a hit for a run. Sewell batted for Raffenberg and received credit for the win and Hughson was charged for the loss. Nationals have now won four games: 1936, N. 4, A. 1; 1938, N. 4, A. 1; 1940, N. 4, A. 1; 1941, N. 7, A. 1. Americans have won eight games: 1933, A. 4, N. 2; 1934, A. 9, N. 7; 1935, A. 4, N. 1; 1937, A. 8, N. 3; 1938, A. 3, N. 1; 1941, A. 7, N. 5; 1942, A. 3, N. 1; 1943, A. 5, N. 3.

The New York Yanks took four out of 5 from the Red Sox and it looks like the start of another drive by them to get up to the top. They are now two games behind St. Louis and two games ahead of the Red Sox. This American League race is a corker and this western trip should prove which teams will fight it out. St. Louis has won 48 and lost 37. New York has won 43 and lost 38. The Yanks have played six games less than St. Louis, which is quite an advantage. Jimmy Dykes of Chicago says New York has only two pitchers, Bonebrake and Borowy, and he says they are not good. The Red Sox have only Tex Hughson, so they are out. Of course Dykes has been wrong before.

Bobby Doerr and Pete Fox are leading the American League batters with 327 and 326. Bob Johnson is fourth with 315. Stevens of St. Louis is leading with 58 runs batted in. Metheny of the Yanks and Cullenbine of Cleveland are tied with 11 home runs.

St. Louis Cards are away out front in their league with an 11-game lead over Pittsburgh and Cincinnati. New York Giants are fourth and the Braves are in the cellar. Musial of the Cards is leading batter with 366, Walker of Brooklyn 350, Weintraub of New York Giants 336. Mel Ott, manager of the Giants, is leading batters with 30 home runs. Bill Nicholson of the Cubs has 15. Nicholson is leading with 53 runs.

batted in. Ott Giants, Kurowski Cards, and Walker of the Dodgers, are tied with 52 runs batted in.

Warren Huston of Newton will play 2nd base for the Braves when Connie Ryan leaves for the service. He played a very good game Sunday at third and got three hits and the Braves infield looked O.K.

The Western clubs will all visit Braves Field this month and if the Braves could only start pounding that ball they could get out of the cellar.

Willie Pep was too much for Manuel Ortiz at Braves Field last night, July 17. Pep had rounds 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 9 and 10. Ortiz was given rounds 6 and 7 with the eighth round even. Ortiz threw caution to the wind starting the sixth and started to slug it out with Pep who weathered both these rounds. It was a case of Pep being clever for Ortiz. It was a poor fight to watch as Pep kept on the move all the time and failed to mix with Ortiz.

ROTARY CLUB

July 7th marked the beginning of a new Rotary year, consequently instead of a featured speaker, a "get-together" was observed.

LIGHTNING CAUSES DAMAGE TO NEWTON HOUSES

Considerable damage was caused by the electric storm on July 10, when homes were struck in various parts of the city and other damage resulted.

The home of Leonard Simpson at 81 Prairie avenue, Auburndale, was struck by lightning which ignited the roof. A few minutes later engines were called to the home of A. W. Marshall, 11 Sylvan avenue, West Newton where a bolt of lightning had caused a short circuit.

The Fire Department received a call from 882 Commonwealth street, Newton Centre where the chimney and roof had been damaged by a lightning bolt, and responded to a call from 98 Central avenue, Newtonville where a chimney had been hit.

In Newton Upper Falls a bolt hit the Newton Centre where the road-way and on Prince street, West Newton lightning hit a tree and made a hole in the sidewalk.

An electric light pole at Beacon street and Locke road was struck resulting in a fire in a transformer.

At Commonwealth avenue and Valentine street, West Newton the heavy rain washed away a manhole cover which was replaced by Patrol

Dining With Jane and Bill

Jane: Hope you like what we are having for dinner tonight, Bill.

Bill: I'm not worried, dear, you've done all right all these years. In this hot weather you seem to hit upon what a fellow feels like eating. By the way, what is this surprise dish you have here for me to serve?

Jane: Well, you taste of it first and then I'll tell you what it is.

Bill: Um-mm- there's nothing wrong with this, in fact I rather like it. What is it, anyway?

Jane: It's Spanish liver, a new recipe I found using tomato sauce. I'm glad you really like it. I have been trying to find something different for our dinners, and the last time we checked over the food bills you told me I was over-stepping a little. Yesterday, I noticed lamb's liver was a good buy in the market, and so I bought some for us to try. Since I had heard the doctor at the blood donor center say that liver was rich in iron, I was anxious to get some for us.

Bill: What does iron do for us that is so important? Isn't it found in all foods?

Jane: Truthfully, Bill, I didn't think much about it until the other day when I told you I was turned down as a blood donor. The doctor said that I should build up my stores of iron before giving blood, since my hemoglobin was low. Then he told me that all foods do not contain iron, but if we included such foods as liver, meat, eggs, whole grain cereals, dried fruits and molasses in our meals frequently, we would be eating the iron-rich foods.

Bill: Well, I am glad to know about that, for I can see why we should have these foods more often, if it means having good blood. While we are on the subject of liver, tell me, what did you do to this meat to make it so tender? I remember the last fishing trip the boys and I took; we cooked some liver but it was very tough and it didn't taste like this.

Jane: Perhaps you overcooked the meat, Bill, or used too high a temperature. These things will make liver tough, and also shrinks the meat and causes it to lose some of its flavor.

JANE'S RECIPE FOR SPANISH LIVER:

1 lb. raw liver (lamb, pork or beef) 1 onion, chopped
2 cups tomatoes, (fresh, canned or soup) 1 tsp. bacon fat,
1/2 green pepper, chopped or other oil
2 stalks celery 3/4 tsp. salt
4 slices bacon 1/2 tsp. pepper

Procedure: Fry bacon in pan. Cook liver in bacon fat, browning on both sides and then cooking at low temperature until tender. Remove liver from pan. Add chopped onion, pepper and celery, cook for 2 minutes. Add the tomatoes and cook until most of the liquid evaporates. Reheat the liver in the sauce and serve immediately. Serves four.

Suppose we're only half right in saying the war will end this year, well... 1/2 of 3888 is 1944. Makes sense, doesn't it?

To get the name of the greatest Commander-in-Chief of them all, read the first letter of each name left to right.

ONLY 20% OF REGISTERED LOCAL VOTERS CAST BALLOTS

Voting at the primaries in Newton was very light July 11. The total number of ballots recorded was 6,989, and of these 6,038 were Republican ballots and 951 Democratic.

In the contest for Republican nominations for State Representatives, George E. Rawson of the 4th Middlesex District was renominated and John S. Whittemore of Newtonville was the winner in a contest for nomination. The vote in this district was George E. Rawson, 1,500; Philip W. Carter, 1,204; Arthur S. Scipione 322 and Harold A. Murray 160.

In the 6th Middlesex District Rep. Margaret L. Spear was renominated and Henderson Inches was the winner of the contest, the vote being as follows: Mrs. Margaret L. Spear, 2,577; Henderson Inches, 2,111; John Temperley, 1,078.

In the Democratic contest for Representatives James P. Atkins and Arthur S. Scipione were nominated in the 4th Middlesex District, Atkins receiving 298 votes and Scipione, who ran in both the Republican and Democratic primaries, received 295 Democratic votes. In the 5th Middlesex District there were no candidates for the Democratic nomination.

State Senator Benjamin J. Bowser won an overwhelming victory in Newton over his opponent, Thomas E. Morahan, having received 5,054 votes in the Republican primaries while Morahan received 319.

District Attorney Robert F. Bradford received 4,180 votes in the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor, Rudolph F.

We overheard one of the office stenographers saying the other day—it went like this: "I'm not asking for myself, God—but please send my mother a son-in-law."

NEWTON CENTER METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

Lieut. Sarah C. Harris, of the Army Nurse Corps, now serving in India, writes that some of her patients are boys working on the Imperial railroad (which is so important to us and our allies) and others are the Army Air Corps men who fly "the hump" over the air field near the hospital. The air field near the hospital is one field from which they take off for this dangerous flight. Sometimes the planes crash on the side of the mountains where it is impossible to get to them, although every effort is made as long as there is any possibility of anyone being alive in the plane. The natives are a great help in this rescue work, and quite a few air men have been brought out in this way. Some "walk in" after weeks of being lost in the jungle. Lieut. Harris is not enthusiastic about her part of India. They are in the midst of the monsoon which will last until November or longer. December will complete Lieut. Harris's two years of foreign service and we hope then to hear that she is coming home.

The fifty-seventh star now goes on our service flag for our one and only SPAR, Edith H. Cox of 121 Cypress street, who has received the U. S. Coast Guard and is stationed at Palm Beach, Fla.

Harold Parker, F. I. C., USNR, is looking up friends in Newton Center these days when he gets a few hours free leave.

The house we'll not miss seeing any of our service men or women who may be home during the summer. Just now we are uniting with the other churches in Union Services, but the Methodist Church will be open again on August 20.

FIREMAN SPOILS FUN BUT PREVENTS FLOOD

Probably because he didn't want any interference two-year old Peter Maloney locked himself in the bathroom of his home, 40 Larchmont avenue, Waban, and proceeded to turn on the faucets in the bathtub and wash bowl.

He was having the time of his life and his mother tried to lure him out, but he either wouldn't or couldn't turn the key in the lock.

His mother appealed to the Fire Department and Ladder 2 responded to the call. In no time the child was released. Capt. Henry Murphy entered through the bathroom window after ascending a ladder. Little Peter didn't put up much of a fuss, although he was plainly disappointed that the water hadn't reached overflowing proportions before the visiting firemen so rudely intruded on his privacy and spoiled his fun.

HOME ON FURLOUGH

July 12, 1944.

Mr. John J. Trumble, Flight Officer, U. S. Army Air Corps, has returned to Barksdale Field, Louisiana, after a week at home. He has completed training on the B-26 and expects to embark for overseas duty very soon. Mr. Trumble was accompanied on his trip home by his wife, the former Ellen S. Easton, who will remain with her parents in Newton.

Seven Newton residents are among the 120 17-year-old students who have been assigned to Yale University as the first contingent of the new Army Specialized Training Reserve Program. The students will receive from one to four 12-week courses at government expense prior to being called to active duty on their 18th birthdays.

Among the men, who were selected on the basis of a nationwide test are Michael Bornkopf of 40 Leslie road, Auburndale; Richard A. Minard of 17 Maple street, Auburndale; John J. Hendry of 7 Indiana court, Newton Upper Falls, and James L. Bostic of 46 Curve street, West Newton.

NO-HIT FEATS IN AMERICAN ALL-STAR WIN

Silk, Pattison Blank National The American All-Stars chalked up a no-hit no-run victory by defeating the National All-Stars, 6 to 0, in the annual Newton Twilight League All-Star game before a large crowd at Cabot Park, Newtonville, Sunday.

The American All-Stars, managed by Phil Pattison, shared the mound duties for the Americans and easily subdued the junior circuit batters. They fanned a total of 13 opponents. Fitzpatrick, DeRusha and McKenna were the heavy hitters for the winners. The Nationals used three hurlers who threw a total of 11 hits, including a two-bagger by Johnny Crelick.

Managing the American All-Stars were Eddie Norcross of Cabot, Del Ryan of Auburndale and James Silk of the Mohawks.

The National Division managers were John McBaron of the Maroons, John Nangle of the Crusaders and Bob Allegart of the Panthers.

Customer in drive store (on Sunday morning): "Please give me change for a dime."

Druggist: "Here you are. I hope you enjoy the sermon."

JOBLESS INSURANCE WOULD BE INCREASED UNDER NEW BILL

Sen. Murray (D.) of Montana introduced a bill to liberalize the unemployment insurance allowances for jobless veterans.

The GI bill allows unemployment insurance at the rate of $20 a week for a maximum of 52 weeks in the first two years after discharge. The Murray bill would allow an individual $5 a week for each dependent of an unemployed service man, up to a maximum of $35 weekly.

SOLDIERS NOW SPENDING LESS

United States soldiers in Britain spent only 26 per cent of their pay in this country during April, a new low, the United States army fiscal director announced today.

This was a decline of 7 per cent in the past nine months, during which a campaign has been under way to encourage the G. I. boys to save their money. Frugal allowances, insurance premiums, war bonds, bank deposits and contributions are among the methods of keeping the money out of general circulation.

POLEY OF GAMEWELL HONORED

Retiring after 62 years of service with the Gamewell Co. of Upper Falls, Daniel G. Foley, 81, of 282 Langley road, Newton Centre, was tendered a testimonial by company officials and fellow employees.

Frederick B. Philbrick, president of the company, told about Foley's long record of service and Iva G. Billings, second oldest employee, presented Foley a check from the company and a purse of money from the employees.

Awarded D.F.C. And Promotion

Word has been received from the Ninth Air Force Field in Normandy of the award of the Distinguished Flying Cross to Felix M. Rogers, former graduate and honors student of the Newton High School, and his promotion to captain in the Army Air Forces, within a period of two days.

Capt. Rogers is a member of a P-51 group which has escorted bombers to Berlin and other tar-

While in a group of P-51s about 18 miles northeast of Paris they dove down on a long string of German planes, flying in a stream, about 30 in all, and Rogers shot down two of these planes.

The group has received the Presidential citation and with 158 planes shot down in seven months of combat, has one of the best records among fighter groups for the time it has been operating.

Capt. Rogers is the son of the late F. F. Rogers and Mrs. Rogers. His mother is now residing in Brookline.

three others shaken up in a collision which occurred early Thursday morning between a fire truck which had just left the station on Washington street, Newtonville and a large trailer truck.

1:42 a.m. when the accident happened. Keating, Capt. Daniel J.
Hurley and Fireman Alfred H.
Lawson were shaken up and Fireman Daniel O'Connell of 1187 Washington street, West Newton was taken to the Newton Hospital in a police car suffering from shock, bruises about the body and a possible concussion of the brain.

The driver of the trailer-truck was Edward P. Fayette of Springfield. The front of the fire truck was badly damaged and the rear wheels and axle of the trailer truck were knocked off.

Motorists, gasoline dealers, OPA boards and plant transportation committees have cooperated so efficiently in the last four months that endorsement of gasoline cou-

Boy Drowns At Crystal Lake

John E. Howley, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Howley of 9 Howley avenue, Newton Centre, was drowned while swimming in Crystal Lake last Thursday afternoon.

The boy had been swimming with a younger brother, Henry, 11, and a group of companions when they suddenly missed him and reported his disappearance to the five lifeguards at the beach. Two of the lifeguards, Miss Claire Mc-Carthy and Miss Caroline Sewall quickly recovered the body which was about 20 feet from the shore and a few feet outside the section ruled off as a safety zone for non-swimmers. Members of the Newton Fire and Police Departments were summoned and with members of the bath house staff worked over the boy for more than half an hour under the direction of Dr. E. J. Levenson but all ef-orts to revive him were in vain.

Medical Examiner Thomas Morton Gallagher pronounced death due to accidental drowning.

Besides his parents and his brother Henry, the boy is survived by another brother, Pvt. Francis Howley, U. S. Army who is stationed in India, and a sister, Marguerite Howley.

NEWTONICS

By Dorothy Williams

Back-Bone of a Ray. With the hot weather having settled down in earnest, there are still some housewives and students who are sitting out this war until the Fall. We wish that these women could talk for a moment with a tiny, white-haired lady of some 60 years plus who works at Raytheon's Receiving Tube Division. And let me tell you why. On one of the hottest July days when the thermometer was winking at the 90's, she was bustling around selling war bonds in addition to her regular work. Someone called out the old standby remark, "Is it hot enough for you?" It's not too bad," she replied quietly, "Everytime I feel disgruntled at the heat, I look into the back of my mind and I can see the words of my son's last letter from the front. It read, 'Mom, don't let the heat get you and the folks down. It's nothing to what the fellows here are enduring. We are situated on the equator where a cool day is 120°'. No breeze. No relief of any kind. Night in and day out. All this and mosquitos, too. We even have to have our hats shaved off to help keep cool.
Week after week our men are fighting in this heat. Many of them died. . . Yet they will always tell you that if they had the chance, they'd do it all over again.
They say the folks at home are worth it!' With that, the little white-haired lady stepped to the door and called back, 'Because they can keep going down there for us with that kind of spirit, every last woman and girl of us up here at Raytheon are going strong for them.'

Commando Without Kilts. Pointing out the urgent need of "wireless" tubes to aid in ending the war, Lt. Stuart Chant, repatriated prisoner of war, and one of the original commandos, spoke to Raytheon's Radio Receiving Tube Division winners of the Attendance Contest at the banner presentation ceremony held on Monday, July 10,
in the cafeteria.

Lt. Chant who is of the Scottish regiment, the Gordon Highlanders, apologized to his feminine audience for his failure to wear kilts but said that it created such a stir amongst both the American men and women that he retreated for safety's sake into a pair of long khaki pants.

Lt. Chant, a veteran of the famous St. Nazaire Raid of March 28, 1942, was taken prisoner on this raid following his destroying the pumping station at one of Germany's main submarine bases.
Chant was the only prisoner of his group to be repatriated.

Upon the completion of his talk,
the commando congratulated Division 800 on their winning first prize in the Attendance Contest, and presented a large banner to Karl Scheibe, 10 Coolidge road, Belmont, who represented the victorious group.

It's A Go Green With Envy. Tube
Head Tim, after winning the bread all these years, has decided that money may talk, but it certainly is hard of hearing when you call it.

Three "Blind Dates." Three girls from Raytheon's Radio Receiving Tube Division, were selected by Arlene Francis—stage, screen, and radio personality—to appear on her "Blind Date" program during its Boston run at the R.K.O.
Theatre.

Selected from hundreds of tryouts, were Clare Sullivan, 72
Easton street, Allston, Charlotte
McCrillis, 30 Hemingway street,
Boston, and Mary-Helen Corliss,
Dept. 131, 72 Powers St., Need-

Parents and relatives of men and women in the armed forces are reminded that under the present Absentee Voting Laws they may from the City Clerk or any member of the Registrars of Voters, and after being filled out must be presented to one of the Registrars of Voters, Harold F.

dale, Chairman; William J. Doherty,

Registrars and acknowledge the truth of the statements therein.
The law defines relative who may file such application as wife, father, mother, brother, sister, niece or nephew.

With so many of our men and forces must register in person at

Mr. Spear Named Instructor In Nursery Training School

Announcement of the appointment of Mr. Ellis Spear, 3d, of 121 Bishopsgate road, Newton, as instructor in science at the Nursery Training School of Boston, made by its director, Dr. Abigail A. Eliot this week. He is also on the faculty of the Rivers School, Brookline. His work on Marlborough street is preparing young women to teach pre-school children.

Sandra, a faithful "seeing eye" dog of the boxer variety, who guides her master to and from his war production job every day, proudly wears the Army-Navy "E" for excellence pin.

The master, Lyle T. Hammond, 65 Grove street, Waltham—and Sandra—work at Raytheon Manufacturing Co., Waltham, and fellow employees of Mr. Hammond decided this week that it was high time Sandra received her due recognition.

So they decided that award of an "E" pin would be appropriate and the presentation was made with fitting ceremony.
Mr. Hammond, who at one time was active in the advertising game, obtained Sandra at Morristown, N. J., several years ago. He took the special course at Morristown and is a familiar figure in Waltham, striding fearlessly and confidently across streets and along sidewalks, guided by the competent Sandra.

Mr. Hammond is a former president of the Waltham High Alumni Association and of the Guiding Light Club, an organization for blind persons. He has been employed at Raytheon for approximately nine months.

85% Of Leaders Enrolled For Boston War Fund Campaign

With the Greater Boston United War Fund Campaign still three months away, the Newton Community Chest announces the enrollment of more than 85 per cent of its top leaders for the drive.

Including Chairmen, Division Chairmen, Village Chairmen, Majors, and Captains in the ten divisional units, 286 volunteers are to be enrolled. Of these, 243 have accepted appointment, according to Thomas E. Shirley, Campaign
Chairman in Newton.

"With additional appointments of one Division Chairman, three Residential Majors, and 39 Captains, our top enrollment will be completed," Mr. Shirley states. "I am delighted at the response which we have received this year, particularly as in no previous campaign have we had so large a number enrolled three months in advance of the campaign."

"The total number of volunteer workers in the campaign each year usually exceeds 2500, and while many of these enrollments may come in during the summer, the real effort to complete the divisional lists will take place during September. With such a fine start in our leadership enrollment, we are confident of a strong group of workers at campaign time."

In the Residential Division, whose workers call on over 20,000 prospects, more than 2000 Newton citizens will volunteer. In the 13 Villages there will be 58 Chairmen, Assistant Chairmen, and Majors, and 159 Captains of teams. Of this total of 217 Village leaders, 175 are selected with eleven of the thirteen sections more than two thirds appointed.

Newtonville, Newton Highlands, Waban Hill, and Lower Falls have 100 per cent of top personnel enrolled; West Newton and Auburn-dale over 90 per cent; Newton and Chestnut Hill over 80 per cent;
and Waban, Newton Centre, and Upper Falls over 70 per cent. All Residential leaders are endeavoring to complete their lists of Captains before August vacations start in, so that beginning with Labor Day, the intensive campaign to enlist the house-to-house volunteers can start.

Lawrence B. Damon is serving his second year as chairman of the Residential Division and took the lead in stimulating interest in vice in both World Wars I and II, has just returned from the South

Special from Chicago having been observed in the Chicago station by Judge Frank Tomassello of the Boston Municipal Court and Dick Casey, originator of the Casey Club baseball team of Neponset, who invited him to ride along with them instead of waiting for the regular train which was to follow the special.

After reporting at Fort Devens and daughter, Barbara, 13, at Atlantic City, N. J.

shortly after the attack on Pearl Harbor he entered the Army.
While in Australia he served on General MacArthur's Staff. His knowledge of the Japanese language was of considerable help to him in the South Pacific area.

During the New Guinea campaign he was wounded slightly, receiving a leg injury.

the Board for several years. In his letter he stated that his resignation is due to the fact that he recently took on new obligations.
He was statewide head of the Board. Under the law vacancies

Aldermen Vote $10,000 for New Fire Engine

The Newton Board of Aldermen at their meeting on Monday night voted an appropriation of $10,000 for purchase of a new fire engine to replace the pumping engine at Engine 4 house which was damaged to the extent of $3000 in a collision which occurred as the apparatus was leaving the station to respond to an alarm on July 13.
Alderman Lockwood stated that although the city hoped to recover the amount of the damage from the insurance company, it would be advantageous to buy a new pumper rather than use the damaged one which could be repaired and traded in.

The board adopted a resolution calling for the abatement of the smoke nuisance resulting from Boston and Albany trains, many complaints having been received by city officials concerning smoke from locomotives of trains which run along the depression parallel to Washington street. Residents of that section claim that the smoke sweeps over the highway.
The resolution, introduced by Alderman Kenneth Prior, instructed Mayor Paul M. Goddard to take the matter up with Boston & Albany officials. It was seconded by Alderman Fred Alexander.

The resolution follows:
"Be it resolved: That His Honor, the Mayor, contact the proper authorities of the Boston & Albany Railroad Company to abate the smoke nuisance that exists along the Boston & Albany Railroad route through Newton due to the firing of their engines at the local stations."

A hearing was held on the laying out, grading and acceptance of Walnut Hill road, Newton Highlands, from the accepted portion to Parker avenue, under the provisions of the law authorizing the assessment of betterment. There was no opposition to this project.

A hearing was held by the Claims and Rules committee and the Planning Board on a proposed zoning change which would give the use of the land at 9 Highland avenue, Newtonville, as a parking area for a proposed chain store to be erected on Walnut street. The petition filed by Helen Landy calls for the change of land at the rear of 9 Highland avenue, also driveways from Highland avenue and Austin street, from the General Residence to business district. A large number of residents appeared in opposition to this project.

There was no opposition to a petition of Fay Miller for changing real estate at 11 Hawthorn street from the general residence to business district, on which a hearing was held.

The board refused to receive a new petition from Pearl D. Drake for variance of the application of the Zoning Ordinance covering 106 Grant avenue, Newton Centre, as the petition had already been rejected once this year. A similar petition by a former owner of the property had also been turned down.

Alderman James P. Akins made a plea that the board receive the new petition and refer it to the committee, asserting that the petitioner had announced that "new evidence" was to be presented. He said that at the hearing on the first petition, two persons who came to object withdrew their opposition. To listen to a petition, he declared is "one of the fundamental principles of democracy."

A hearing was held on a petition of the Boston Edison Company and the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company for a joint pole location on Gramere street, Newton, about 205 feet north of Hunnewell avenue, one existing pole to be removed. This petition was granted after a property owner stated that the purpose was to remove a pole which obstructs a driveway.

The appointment by Mayor Paul M. Goddard of William H. Rice as a trustee of the Chaffin Educational Fund to fill a vacancy resulting from the resignation of Robert H. Loomis, was unanimously confirmed by the Board. The appointment of Ernest G. Angwine

Dining With Jane and Bill

Bill: Whew! Isn't this a hot night! I'd like nothing better than an ice cold glass of tonic. How about it? Do you have any in the ice box?

Jane: Well, no, Bill. I decided not to keep any on hand this year, but I've just made up a pitcher of fresh fruit punch. How'd you like that?

Bill: OK, I suppose—but we can't be having that all summer. Fruit costs money and we're trying to keep food bills down, you remember.

Jane: Well, fresh fruit drinks do sometimes cost a little more than tonic or beverages made from punch syrups, but you get so much more for your money. I've heard that a glass of fresh fruit juice gives about half of the vitamin C we need in a day, but all we get from tonic is sugar and flavoring. I'd much rather spend our money for something that gives us real food value. Junior and his gang have been coming in for some, afterwards, instead of running out to the store.

(Later)
Bill: Well, this certainly hits the spot. What vitamin did you say I was getting in this drink?

Jane: Vitamin C, Bill. The dentist told me that it helps to keep our teeth and gums in good condition.

Bill: Oh, yes, that's the vitamin in limes, isn't it? It prevents scurvy. I've heard that the British sailors are called "limeys" because they used to eat a lime every day to prevent sore gums. Do you know what foods contain it?

Jane: It's found in most fruits and vegetables, but raw ones are really the best because cooking destroys much of the vitamin C.

Bill: Well, this certainly has cooled me off—and it tasted mighty good.

How much vitamin C do we need every day?
Vitamin C is measured in milligrams.
Men need 75 milligrams each day.
Women need 70 milligrams each day.
Growing boys and girls need 100 milligrams each day.

Below are the amounts in average servings of some good sources:

mgms.	mgms.
Green peppers 125	Spinach and other cooked greens 35
Cabbage 60	(raw greens have even more vitamin C)
Oranges 60	Tangerines 35
Lemons 60	Strawberries 35
Broccoli 60	Cantaloupe 30
Grapefruit 40	Pineapple 20
	Potato 10

Add up your own score. How much vitamin C did you have today?

Jane's score:
Grapefruit juice 40 mgms.
Potato 10
Spinach 35

Total 85 mgms.

Newton Community Club Active For Service Men

The next meeting of the War Services Knitting and Sewing Div. of the Newton Community Club will take place Thursday afternoon, Aug. 3rd, at the home of Mrs. William T. Cass, 18 Shoreline road, Newton.

This Division has continued to meet throughout the summer, when a busy afternoon spent in knitting and sewing on afghans, clothing etc., is followed by refreshments served by the hostesses.

Other women who have entertained this group during the summer are Mrs. Frederick G. Howe Jr., Waverly avenue, Newton; Mrs. Edmund T. Collins, Nonantum road, Newton; and Mrs. John A. Bopart, Prospect street, West Newton.

The group is very grateful to the Colony Knitting Mill, Hingham, for the generous donation of $25 worth of colorful yarns to be used for hospital afghans and train sacks, which was presented to Mrs. Bedell, chairman of this Division.

The Newton Community Club has completed plans to take over the task of furnishing a sun-room at the Chelsea Naval Hospital Ward, at a cost of $250, and have agreed to take care of the upkeep of same for the duration. The furnishings include 2 couches, 8 easy chairs, 2 card tables, smoking stands and at least 3 lamps. The ward is 10x40 and has 9 windows for which drapes must be supplied.

Mrs. Frederick G. Howe Jr., has offered to make the drapes, and anyone interested in a monetary way or in donating material for this worthy cause please contact Mrs. Bedell, 41 Converse avenue, Tel. BIG. 7428.

The money will be raised by members of the Newton Community Club who are interested in War Services. They will fill a sock with pennies and sell chances at 10 cents a piece. When the $250 quota has been reached, the winning number will be drawn and published in the Newton Graphic and the owner notified by mail.

This is the second ward to be taken over by the Club, the first one being Ward 41, at New Station Hospital, Fort Devens, at a cost to the Club of $350.

Nine Complete Red Cross Dietitian's Aides Course

On July 24th the tenth class for Red Cross Dietitian's Aides was completed at the Newton Hospital. This course includes 28 hours of lectures and practice work in the various dietary departments.

The following ladies are now ready to assist in the hospital: Mrs. Alice Farnham, Mrs. James Gray, Mrs. L. W. Piper, Mrs. R. L. Koff, Mrs. Karl Switzer, Mrs. F. G. Sanford, Mrs. Vincent O'Donnell and Mrs. Mildred Spiel, and one Junior Dietitian's Aide, Miss Theresa Henley.

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. "The divine Science taught in the original language of the Bible came through inspiration, and needs inspiration to be understood. . . . A misplaced word changes the sense and misstates the Science of the Scriptures, as, for instance, to name Love as merely an attribute of God; but we can by special and proper capitalization speak of the love of Love, meaning by that what the beloved disciple meant in one of his epistles, when he said, 'God is love' (p. 319).

Be sure and see the window display at Kennedy's, 32 Summer street, Boston, next week. It will show how clean and pleasant the work is at Raytheon—adv.

OPA Boards Grant More Furlough Gas

Massachusetts War Price and Rationing Boards are ready to grant gasoline rations to members of the armed services on leave or furlough under OPA's new policy.

A member of the armed services on leave or furlough for a period of three days or more now is entitled to one gallon of gasoline for each day of his leave or furlough up to a maximum of 30 gallons. The new rule replaces one granting a flat five gallon to every member of the armed services on leave, furlough, pass, or regardless of the length of the leave.

The OPA Regional Office announced. It has become evident that the old policy, which resulted in giving much more gasoline to a member of the armed forces who got many short leaves than to one who received one long one, was unfair to the man serving out of the country and returning after a long absence OPA officials said.

To eliminate this unfairness, the new rationing policy, the amount of the ration to the length of the leave or furlough was worked out by OPA in conjunction with representatives of the Army and the Navy.

Furlough rations will now range between a minimum of three gallons for three-day leave or furlough to a maximum of 30 gallons for 30 days. At the suggestion of the Army and Navy, no ration will be granted for passes (to Army personnel) or liberties (to Navy personnel) or for leaves or furloughs of less than three days.

To receive his ration, the member of the armed services should apply to the War Price and Rationing Board having jurisdiction over the automobile he expects to drive, and present proper leave or furlough papers. The ration will be issued in the form of coupons or gasoline purchase permits, or a combination of the two.

Hall of 26 Webster court, Newton Centre.

With her gown of white marquisette, the bride wore a tulle veil and carried a bouquet of white roses and baby's breath. She was given in marriage by her father, and her sister, Miss Josephine Emery was her attendant. She wore green marquisette and carried a bouquet of red roses. Henry Francis Twomey, Jr., of Swampscott, was the best man and the ushers were Edward Newcomb, George William Hanson, USNR, William Thompson, USA, Francis Grant and Morton Page.

As chairman for Boston, Mr. West will direct an organization of more than 1000 ward and precinct chairmen and volunteers who will raise funds needed for an effective campaign by local, state and national G.O.P. candidates.

Mr. West is in the investment firm of Perrin, West and Winslow.

Air Armada For The Navy

Washington, D. C.—Demonstrating the effectiveness of training on the home front during which time the 16,500 clubs of the General Federation of Women's Clubs last year purchased $102,212,936 of war bonds in a single campaign, the same group now proposes to exceed that amount in a campaign to purchase an "Armada of Planes for the Navy," it was announced today by Mrs. LaFell Dickinson, president of that organization, at Federation headquarters here.

"The promptness and precision with which a membership of over 2,500,000 women will complete such a task is already assured," commented Mrs. Dickinson.

The objective of the Federation is to buy and sell War Bonds for the "purchase" of Navy Aircraft to outfit task force carriers with planes for offense, to provide inshore patrol aircraft to defend the shores of our country and of reconquered islands and lands.

Through new arrangements made by the War Finance Division of the Treasury Department with the Navy Department, plans sponsored by State Federations, Districts or Clubs will be marked with a decalcomania carrying the name and address of the sponsoring organization. This will be placed on the inside of the plane as a permanent record, no matter what the plane itself may be named.

"It is to be hoped that women will set definite goals for their individual clubs, as was done in the last campaign," said Mrs. Mervin G. Pierpont of Baltimore, who is serving the Federation as War Bond chairman, "and that the 5,000,000 volunteers of that campaign will be over-reached in this one. The job of persuading people to invest in the fight for freedom is not a spectacular one, but the results—the sum total of united effort—can be spectacular, and it will be."

That the club women of America are eager to equal their sons and husbands in valor and sacrifice is the firm conviction of Mrs. Dickinson and Mrs. Pierpont.

We have the tires proven by 3 BILLION MILES B. F. Goodrich all-synthetic Silvertowns

IF ANYONE still has doubts about tires built with man-made rubber, here's clear-cut performance proof: by the most conservative estimate, essential drivers have already rolled over 3 billion miles on B. F. Goodrich all-synthetic Silvertowns.

Letters have come in from drivers all over the country reporting complete satisfaction. Most of them have expressed confidence that all-synthetic Silvertowns will give at least as much mileage as pre-war tires.

The 80,000,000-mile road test was the first proof that B. F. Goodrich could build high-performance tires with synthetic rubber. The test started almost two years before Pearl Harbor when B. F. Goodrich sold tires in which more than half the rubber was synthetic. They were the first synthetic tires ever offered for sale to the American public. Building and testing them gave B. F. Goodrich the valuable backlog of experience which is now showing up in the performance of today's all-synthetic Silvertowns.

So, see us at once if you are eligible for new tires. If inspection shows that you need new tires, we will fill out and handle your application for these proven B. F. Goodrich Silvertowns.

Camp Frank A. Day

(Newton "ICA Boys' Camp")
Brookfield, Mass.

This past week at Camp Day a series of athletic contests with neighboring Camp Atwater was the center of attention. Our counselor team defeated Camp Atwater in baseball, basketball and tennis, but our senior campers were badly beaten in baseball by their rival campers last Saturday evening. The basketball game, played last Tuesday evening on our home court, was closely contested throughout, and our boys came thru with a 44-43 win. That made it three wins for Camp Day and one for Camp Atwater with only a single contest remaining, a return tennis match this coming Sunday afternoon featuring the play of "Bob" Scanlon, junior state champion and counselor at Camp Day, versus Matt Branche, runner-up for the coveted state title.

Last Sunday, Mr. Samuel H. Johnson, the director of Camp Day, conducted the morning chapel service and preached the sermon. In the absence of Rev. Charles Allen, the chaplain at Camp Day, Mr. Johnson has also been conducting the daily devotional services in the dining hall. Sunday afternoon there were the usual sailing races and waterfront program, and in the evening there were special movies. One picture shown was "With Willing Hands," the other, "Wild Animals."

The big event of the past week was "change day," the day when the first period campers bid their sad farewell to camp for another season, and the new campers, full of excitement and eager anticipation, arrived on the noon train at East Brookfield. "Change Day" the staff was kept busy answering question, particularly "Smithy" who is waterfront director.

The final standing in the athletic competition at the end of the first period of camp found Tent 1 in the senior line just ahead of Tent 2 with ten wins and two losses. In the Junior League, Tent 15 topped first place honors winning fourteen straight games and losing none. In the Midlet League, Cabin 24 came out on top.

A track meet was held last Saturday afternoon under the direction of Ross Humphrey, and an outdoor boxing match was staged at the senior diamond on Monday evening. Last night the campers and staff enjoyed a delightful evening stroll around the lake.

The feature motion picture at Camp Day for the week starred Bob Hope and Dorothy Lamour in "Caught in the Draft." While the campers were enjoying this motion picture the counselors' baseball team was away at Brookfield adding another win to their long series of triumphs. They defeated the Brookfield town team by the score of 10-6.

Former Newspaper Editor Heads Kiwanis International

An advertising executive and former newspaper editor, who long has been one of America's top spokesmen for the free enterprise system of government, will guide Kiwanis International's more than 2,200 clubs and 132,000 members throughout the United States and Canada during the coming year.

Ben Dean, of Grand Rapids, Mich., known by thousands of Kiwanians from coast-to-coast, came up the ladder the hard way and previous to his election as president of the international service organization played an active role in the movement of business, industry and agriculture to preserve and protect their constitutional rights.

A Kiwanian for 16 years, Dean has not allowed the national publicity to undermine his civic responsibility in Grand Rapids, where he is chairman of the Better Business Bureau, director of the Chamber of Commerce, a trustee of the Baptist church, a former chairman of the Red Cross chapter and one time president of the board of education.

Dean was elected president of Kiwanis International at its 1944 wartime convention in Chicago. His selection was hailed by leaders in all walks of life for he speaks a language calling for a stable world economy.

Dean has consistently advocated the development of specific community plans to meet post-war problems, an orderly but certain demobilization of wartime economic controls, the development of fiscal policies which will give the free enterprise system a chance to operate, the rehabilitation and employment of servicemen and women, and an enlarged program of education for all who are able to take advantage of it.

In a recent nationwide broadcast, Kiwanis International's new president declared that the problem of post-war employment can be solved only through plans involving free enterprise, individual initiative and private industry. He expressed the opinion that "the jobs of our men and women in uniform have the first call on the industries of this country."

Dean, who owns a widely known advertising agency organized in 1919, once served as a reporter and then city editor of the Grand Rapids Herald. Author of a book on furniture styles and contributor to magazines, he is the father of a son fighting overseas and a daughter who is married.

As head of Kiwanis, he will urge clubs to continue their work on behalf of underprivileged children and among boys and girls. He will stress the importance of maintaining cordial relations between the United States and Canada.

Kiwanis Club

President Walter Hood presided at the Tuesday July 25th Kiwanis Club weekly dinner meeting held at the Newton Y. Frank Battles, songmaster, featured Doc Norley as soloist. Visitors included Master Steve Gallagher of Brooklyn, New York; Arthur P. Kelly of Auburn, Maine; and two of the Waltham Kiwanis Club past presidents—Doc Abbott and Joe O'Neill. Len Baker, bond sales for the announced $300 war bond collection. Leo Noel was elected 2nd Vice President. Prizes were captured by the lucky trio—Doc Paul, Len Baker, and Ed De-rocher. Bob Wilcox, guiding light at the outing last week of the crippled children of New England. Feodsky Home, reported a good attendance under ideal outing conditions produced real enjoyment for all. Mrs. Eleanor (Joseph F.) Morrison of the American Red Cross demonstrated and described some of the things the Red Cross is doing for our boys who are Prisoners of War. She showed samples of the weekly boxes sent to the boys—described services—and gave a detailed account of the grand work of the Red Cross, which is much better appreciated, and as will spread our enlightenment. Archie Bellinger, our retiring (for the month) program chairman, gets a large vote of thanks for this timely and most interesting program.

Salvation Army Red Shield Club, Receives Letters of Gratitude

The "Good Neighbor Policy" as practiced by Major LeRoy Stockman of the Red Shield Club on Bulfinch street, Boston, is bringing him much fan mail from overseas.

Whenever a soldier or sailor wearing the uniform of one of our allies at war, pays a visit to one of the two Red Shield Clubs operated in Boston by the Salvation Army, Major Stockman gets the home address and immediately writes a letter to the parents or wife of that serviceman. Just a note to tell them that he has seen the visiting serviceman and that he is well and happy.

The letters received in reply are filled with words of sincere gratitude. Some typical letters follow:

Dear Major Stockman: "It was with great pleasure that I received your letter, giving me news of my son, as it is many weeks since I had a letter from him, and his dad and I was a little worried about him."

Now I see we had no need to be when such kind people as you all are looking after his welfare. Maybe you could do me a favor. If you happen to see him again tell him to write a little more often."

I am sending your letter on to my daughter who is in the WAAAF. You must excuse my writing on both sides of the paper, we have to do these things at the present time. My husband and I hope you will accept our heartfelt thanks for your letter. Sincerely, Violet Jefferson, Hull, England.

Dear Major S.: I was very proud and happy to receive a letter from you to say my brother had paid you a visit at your men's club. I heard all about the splendid work you did for the boys in the last war and it is grand to know you are still carrying on with the greatest work in the world. I would like to show to the girls in the factory where I work. They thought it was ever so nice the way you run your club. We have clubs in England something the same for the boys that are away from home but I and thousands more know that The Salvation Army is the grandest in all the world for bringing happiness and comfort to everybody they meet. Trusting as you say in your letter that it will not be long before peace rules the world again. May God Bless you. Sincerely, Mrs. Alice Newton, Clayton, England.

Dear Sir: I take much pleasure in writing these few lines to thank you for your kind letter. . . . Since receiving same my son has arrived home, and you were quite correct when you said he was in the best of health and very happy. He has told us about your club and how well he was treated by you and the people in Boston. It is very nice to think that our boys have somewhere like this to go when so far from home. . . . My husband and I take this opportunity of thanking you and your people for your kindness. Mrs. R. Morgan, Cardiff, England.

First Aid Classes To Begin In September

Mrs. Clifford O. Mooney, chairman of first aid for the Newton Red Cross, reports that the First Aid Committee has notified First Aiders whose certificates expire by November that it will be necessary for them to take the Standard or Advance course in order to remain on the certified list.

Due to the small demand for a summer class plans are being made for classes to begin in September rather than during the remaining weeks of the summer season.

Applications for Fall Classes may be made in September by telephoning the Newton Chapter House, Lasell 6000.

Be sure and see the window display at Kennedy's, 32 Summer street, Boston, next week. It will show how clean and pleasant the work is at Raytheon—adv.

Rotary Club

The program was in charge of Charlie Meeler, who brought us Major Coolidge, the head of the Orientation section at Fort Devens, assisted by Privates Jack Kelso and Bill Woodland, both of Newton, and Private Eric Marmorek. Major Coolidge explained that the work of the Orientation section is primarily that of morale building, trying to keep the soldier informed as to: 1st, the history and progress of the war; 2nd, the reasons why we fight; 3rd, to have them realize their own personal responsibility in this war, and 4th, to provide off-duty instruction periods, giving them a chance to air their own views and also providing them with further education by means of correspondence courses, etc. Jack Kelso gave us a demonstration of the kind of stories he likes to tell the most and Bill Woodland gave us a short news release of the type which he furnishes regularly to them. Another important phase of the program of the Orientation section is to give them a chance to know the enemy and he introduced to us Private Eric Marmorek, who is now fighting in our forces, but who was born in Vienna, and who spent 8 months of his life as a prisoner in one of Hitler's concentration camps. Private Marmorek presented the things that he and his fellow prisoners had to endure.

Hospital Aid Benefit Shop Annual Closing During August

The Newton Hospital Aid Benefit Shop, at 735 Washington street, Newtonville, with its 125 volunteer workers from all Newton and Wellesley, will take its 28th annual recess from July 28 to Sept. 6.

Friends who have helped the work of the Benefit Shop either by donations of service we send our very warm thanks. Only by this constant support can we return to the hospital the substantial yearly nursing fund. The hospital is unable to improve for some branch of the hospital work. Every saleable donation you make to the Benefit Shop goes in the cash received for it. To add to our splendid hospital efficiency, either in equipment or in nursing, surely they and the hospital deserve every effort we can make for them.

The hospital truck collects donations for the shop on Wednesday mornings, and its service may be had by calling Big. 8123 on Monday.

During August will you not save good books, saleable clothing for men, women, and children, toys, old gold and silver, small tables, chairs and vases and bric-a-brac to decorate our window? Your efforts will assure us a festive and successful fall. While the shop is closed during August, a telephone call to the shop director, Mrs. Francis Williams, Las. 1426 or to Mrs. Ernest Drew, Big. 0924, will give you information regarding the Shop, or if necessary make appointments.

"Here's To Us!"

To Open at Cambridge Monday

Jean Muir, lovely star of movie and stage fame starring in the premiere production of Broadway's "Here's To Us!" the new play by Shirland Quin which opens next Monday evening at Brattle Hall promises to be one of the most interesting productions of the fifth season of the Cambridge Summer Theatre.

The romantic comedy deals with the startling adventures, the complexities and adjustments of a career woman who joins the armed forces. The author, Shirland Quin, prize-winning Atlantic Monthly novelist, author of "Dark Heritage" and other best-sellers, formerly on the staff of "Time and Tide" magazine and reviewer of fiction is herself the wife of a Lieutenant Colonel currently on duty in the premiere production of Honolulu and as Reuter's correspondent for that country for over five years has given her a wealth of authentic background material to which is attributed the great interest that has already been manifested in the premiere production of "Here's To Us!" at Brattle Hall. An actress as well, having appeared before both New York and London audiences under such distinguished directors as Margaret Webster, Auriel Lee and Sir Philip Green, Shirland Quin will herself appear in the play.

Pretty Jean Muir appearing in person, who will be remembered for her countless films, her long and successful tour in "Golden Boy" here and abroad this past season, has produced "Listen Professor" starring Dudley Diggs. Supporting Miss Muir will be Louise Valery, the leading lady of the Cambridge Summer Theatre and others of that company including the capable Richard Hart and Alan Tower.

"Here's To Us!" will be staged by Robert E. Perry with settings by Andrew Mack.

The current week at Brattle Hall co-managers John Huntington and Louise Falk present Lillian Hellman's masterpiece, an American drama "The Little Foxes" with Mabel Acker. There will be a matinee at Saturday in accordance with the policy of the Cambridge Summer Theatre. Reservations for seats for all performances are urged and more may be made by telephone at Trowbridge 1455.

OPA Checks Meat Prices

A pricing and posting survey, first to be devoted solely to meats, is now underway in every city and town in Massachusetts with price panel assistants of local War Price and Rationing Boards conducting the check. The survey covers ceiling and selling prices of rationed and non-rationed meat cuts, as well as a check on proper OPA posting requirements. OPA rationing officials said the survey was another step in a program to bring about better retailer-consumer compliance.

Headquarters of the Massachusetts Republican Finance Committee are at 80 Federal street, Boston, where work is progressing in an effort to line up the thousands of volunteers required to raise the funds which will make possible an adequate and effective campaign for local, state and national G. O. P. candidates in the forthcoming election. With the party standard bearers having been selected, the committee is now ready to begin its active solicitation.

Mr. Everts served as state chairman for the third war loan and for two years was in charge of the banking division in the Commonwealth Fund drive. He is a member of the firm of Paine, Webber, Jackson and Curtis.

Four Milestones---

years he has issued 3,490 Executive orders, many of legislative or quasi-legislative content. These are not laws passed by Congress; they are laws passed by a single bureaucracy.

Not this all. In the stress of the national crisis, the President was granted an emergency fund over $500,000,000. While only a small portion of this sum has been spent, all of it has been allocated to various agencies. In effect, it places tremendous power in the hands of the President, power which the Constitution formerly reserved to the Congress.

This bureaucracy perpetuates itself far from the scrutiny of the citizenry, behind a veil of complex, overlapping and duplicating agencies whose policy-making personnel is intent upon regimenting American life from the professional armchairs of economists and sociologists in Washington. In many instances, their sole aim is to recruit and appoint only those persons who hold the same ideological concepts as they have. This undemocratic selection process has been so ingrained through usage as to become an accepted procedure. In violation of Civil Service regulations, more and more persons are added to Federal payrolls. The activities of these bureaucrats completely confuse and thwart Congressional investigations.

Government Competition

The second milestone was the control of business. The control of business, which is the lifeblood of free enterprise, of the American way of life itself can be destroyed in one of three ways: (1) By government competition with private business; (2) by senseless and unnecessary regulations; (3) by excessive and exorbitant taxation. Competition with private enterprise has long been a government method of weakening private business and industry. Begun as an emergency experiment in 1933, government competition has mushroomed so that now, although the emergency has passed, the Government has control, or is seeking control, of every business enterprise. Directly concerned with business, there are nine Federal housing and construction agencies, 16 Federal business and banking agencies, and four Federal transportation and power agencies. These are numerous others, some saving of government monopolies, such as in the synthetic rubber industry, the aluminum industry and parts of the banking business.

There is a bill before Congress which, according to the National Physicians Committee, will abolish private medical practice by instituting public medicine, dentistry, nursing and hospitalization under the direct control of a Federally-appointed Surgeon General. It will cost an estimated $3,000,000 a year.

At present the Government is attempting to prove, through the courts, that all insurance—fire, indemnity and life—is commerce between the states, which obviously it is not. Once this is established, all insurance will be subject to direct government control. In the past three years, the Government has spent $25,000,000,000 in building plants and facilities for industrial production. The title to most of these properties is in the Government. Of the 1,500,000 acres of land in the country, 100,000,000 are owned by the Government. The steel plants owned by the Government represent 20% of the entire country's requirements, while 92% of all magnesium produced is taken from government plants. Government investments are responsible for the production of one-third more rubber than was ever used before.

In all, this vast industrial machine represents one-fifth of the nation's industrial capacity, a measure of control undreamed of by the country's greatest industrialists. This control is vested largely in over 57 government corporations. Many of these—notably the RFC—do not operate under control of Congress. This gigantic corporation refuses to have its books audited by the Comptroller General, despite the recommendations of the Secretary of the Treasury. Declares Jesse H. Jones, able head of the RFC: "Obviously the Government will be in a position to smother private industry in the manufacture of magnesium, and also to dominate the aluminum industry, because government alone will have more than enough capacity to supply the entire peacetime needs for aluminum. These situations will require wisdom and fairness by government, otherwise private investments in these industries would be destroyed."

In effect, such corporate government agencies represent unconsciously the holding companies for Totalitarianism, Incorporated. The recent coal strike indicates the trend toward government ownership of industry and control of the people. The miners desired higher wages. They struck. When the Government took over the mines, through Secretary Ickes, the miners were granted the same raises in pay which had been previously refused.

Examples have come to my attention where industries have given up new projects because the estimated cost of preparing questionnaires, reports and forms would be greater than the estimated profit. At least 7,715,229 reports and questionnaires (not including rationing forms) have been issued in one year by the Government.

What's more, these bureaucratic government agencies issue thousands of directives, many of which actually superseded Congressional laws already on the statute books. These directives and questionnaires, burdening the citizens and placing unreasonable obstacles against the war effort, were not done by legislative enactment. Congress is not to blame for them.

Don't blame Congress, either, for the coercion and threats used by the Administration and its agencies to force many business men into hindering free enterprise labor unions providing for the closed shop. This was not done by Congress; it was done by the bureaucrats setting into practice a policy of which I am certain Congress disapproves. Nevertheless, the money used to support the strength of private enterprise.

Even government competition and regimentation of private business might not render it impotent were it not for the excessive taxation which threatens to remove the lifeblood of private enterprise. Heavy taxation is necessary to carry the financial burden of winning the war, but it need not destroy private industry to balance its books.

Branching into the field of property ownership, the Federal Government has now acquired 113,000,000 acres, or $3,500 for every taxpayer in America. It is nine times the total debt at the end of the last war. To repudiate this debt would be to repudiate democracy; to pay it would be to re-establish our Americanism. But this can only be done by free men engaged in free enterprise.

The question has often been asked "What can be done to check this tendency, these growing evils, this march to totalitarianism?" The answer is manifold.

Congress must first of all reassert its Constitutional right. It must refuse the Chief Executive the use of legislative power; it must abrogate the sweeping emergency powers it has given the Chief Executive as soon as the war ends; it must, in short, refuse to have its legal authority by-passed by decrees of a single man.

Congress can't do this alone. The people must reassert themselves, too. Every citizen can and must exercise his right of franchise. This is not a privilege alone, it is a duty.

Every citizen should continue his eternal vigilance and keep Congress informed of his opinions. Congressmen don't disregard the letters and telegrams sent to them by their constituents and others; they welcome such expressions of judgment, for it is through the people that they are made aware of current opinion. Congress represents the people; the people themselves should not forget this.

Must Work Together
Congress and the people, together, can rid the Government of its bureaucracy. The bureaucracy resented by 3,000,000 Federal employees must be dismantled. Qualified, competent employees who believe in our form of democracy, recruited under a competitive Civil Service system based on merit ratings, for it is through the people that they are made aware of current opinion. Congress represents the people; the people themselves should not forget this.

The American people must realize that their one remaining hope is in Congress, for it is the only body of the Government whose membership is dependent upon the will of the people. Members of Congress should be told when they are wrong, and they should be supported when they are right. They, elected by the people, are the last defenders of representative democracy now swiftly retreating down the twilight road to totalitarianism.

Elected To Executive Comm. Nat'l. Assoc. Cost Accountants

Wyman J. Fiske, 14 Upland road, Waban, Mass., has been recently elected to serve as a member of the Executive Committee of the National Association of Cost Accountants. Mr. Fiske is Professor of Accounting at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, a past national president of the Association, and a past president of the Boston Chapter, National Association of Cost Accountants.

At present some 3,000 civilians are employed by the Federal Government—a larger number than the state and local employees of all 48 states. An additional 2,500,000 employees work in construction projects financed in whole or in part by Federal funds. Nor does this take into account the many millions of industrial, manufacturing and agricultural workers indirectly paid by the Government in the form of contracts and subsidies with employers. All of these people directly or indirectly look to the Federal Government for support.

Moreover, the Government supports uncounted millions more through grants in aid to states and through other co-operative arrangements. This will in itself cost the Government over $4,000,000,000 for the fiscal year 1942. Not content with this, the President has announced a guarantee of financial security to every American citizen from the cradle to the grave. This is a guarantee from 130,000,000 Americans to 130,000,000 Americans of social security. While it's the duty of the Government to extend aid to those in distress, it is inconsistent with the very idea of a democracy to guarantee financial security to every citizen.

A necessary corollary to this is the new Machiavellian economic philosophy which advocates an ever-expanding public debt as not only justifiable but also healthy in a country with a "mature economy," such as the U. S. Thus printing money would supplant hard work as a means of subsistence. Such a procedure, once introduced, would result in disastrous inflation and, ultimately, government control of all finances. The democratic idea that the people support the Government would be reversed; the Government would support the people.

Whether the Government's refusal to practice economy is an attempt in this direction the reader must judge for himself.

The Public Debt
The public debt is now $171,000,000,000, or $3,500 for every taxpayer in America. It is nine times the total debt at the end of the last war. To repudiate this debt would be to repudiate democracy; to pay it would be to re-establish our Americanism. But this can only be done by free men engaged in free enterprise.

Chamber Of Commerce Bulletin

The following figures covering Employment and Payrolls in Manufacturing Establishments in Newton are for the month of June, 1944 compared with the month of June 1943:

Average number of Employees—1944 — 7060, 1943 — 7831; Decrease—771; Upercent—9.8.

Amount of Payrolls for month—1944 — $1,093,612.00, 1943 — $1,093,397.00; Increase—$215.00.

The State average on Employment for June 1944 was 9.3 per cent smaller than June 1943; Newton was about the same, namely, 9.8 per cent smaller. The amount paid in wages in the State for June 1944 was smaller by 3.8 per cent than June 1943; Newton, however, because of the increase of the average weekly wage from $32.22 in June 1943 to $35.75 in June 1944, was within $215.00 of 1943 with 771 fewer persons employed. We have been frequently asked why the figures we report monthly on Employment and Payrolls differ from those released by the Department of Labor and Industry; the reason is the figures given by the Department are based on a certain number of manufacturers that report their figures, and are used to show the trend, whereas the figures we publish are approximately the total figures. Newton's industrial employment reached its peak in the fall of 1943, and has been gradually falling off since that time; total wages have on the other hand kept up due to the above stated to the larger average weekly pay check.

CONTRACT SETTLEMENT ACT OF 1944—War Service Bulletin No. 114 dated July 1st contains the complete text of Public Law 395 covering reconversion legislation; while this bulletin is only being mailed to our manufacturers, copies will be sent any interested party.

THE 5TH WAR LOAN—Thru Saturday, July 22nd, Newton's total reached $9,819,000, or 113 per cent of its quota. All sales of "E" Bonds (now 59 per cent of our quota) thru July 31st will be included in our final figures. The Newton War Finance Committee appreciate fully the excellent work done by our Manufacturers in the sale of the 5th War Loan.

VIAT'S COOKIN' IN NEWTON—This publication compiled and sponsored by the Newton Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs for Newton Service Men and Women is published in the Newton Graphic every other week; it is also published as a separate paper for mailing overseas. If you will furnish us the name of your former Newton employees, now in the Service, we will see that their names, if not already on, are added to the mailing list.

Yours sincerely,
Rupert C. Thomson, Secretary.

Newton Citizens Contribute To Seaman's Society

Newton citizens, responding this year to calls from the Boston Seaman's Friend Society, contributed to a total of over 700 overcoats and more than a ton of garments and shoes for women and children. March 1st, when the goods reached Boston ill clad for winter weather in northern seas were the grateful recipients of these warm coats. Hundreds of British sailors joyfully sent women's and children's clothing to their families whose needs have been met under war time rationing. Wrote one seaman who returned to England in time for Christmas, "My wife and the three lads did all they could to make me happy and you cannot imagine the excitement when we unpacked the things, you in the kindness of your hearts, gave me to bring."

These are but two of the unusual services that the Society, with the help of its friends, has rendered seamen in all circumstances during the 117 years of its existence. Now, attempting to match its appearance with its spirit, the Boston Seaman's Friend Society hopes to complete its remodeling program by fall.

An additional floor on the street level, including an auditorium and stage, better library facilities, and a modern cafeteria and kitchen, a more comfortable and homelike lounge, and private bedrooms for men who need more quiet rest than the dormitory offers, are part of the project which will cost $40,000.

These improvements will make it possible to serve more happily and efficiently thousands of merchant seamen whose courage and self-sacrifice have kept open the supply lines to victory. Contributions of any size are welcome. They should be addressed to Arthur J. Crocker, Treasurer, Boston Seaman's Friend Society, 233 Hanover street, Boston 13.
